Battle To Deny Smith His Seat Formally Opens

Illinois Man Demands Admittance To Membership In Senate

RIGHT TO SEAT IS CHALLENGED

Senator Reed Leads Battle To Prevent Smith Being Seated

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—After weeks of hesitancy and conferences and bitter discussion, Frank L. Smith of Illinois came to the door of the senate today and demanded admittance under an appointment by Governor Len Small.

The Smith fight formally opened when Senator Deneen (R) of Illinois presented the Senator-designate's credentials and asked that the oath of office be administered to him at once.

Refers To Precedents

Deneen asked the senate to grant Smith the oath so that he might participate in senatorial activities until his case is finally settled. Deneen drew out of the musty files of the senate, a score of precedents in which senators-designate and senators-elect were given their oaths even though election contests were filed against them.

Smith's right to a seat was formally challenged by Senator James A. Reed (D) of Missouri, chairman of the Campaign Fund Committee which revealed that the Illinois man had spent $450,000 in his primary campaign.

Reed moved that smith be denied the oath of office and his credentials be referred to the senate elections committee.

Ice Goes Off Neshannock

Gorge Forms Temporarily, But Breaks Up At Noon

WAS THREATENING FOR BRIEF TIME

Possibly damaging ice gorge conditions on the Neshannock creek were averted at noon today when the immense forge of ice at the S. Mill street bridge broke as a result of the terrific forces of the backed up water and was carried down the river and over the Rosena furnace dam.

Before the ice, which fortunately was in a softened condition as a result of the warm weather conditions prevailing for the past two days, gave away and permitted the pent up water to make a channel for itself to the dam, the water came up over the north bank of the creek on Water street and overflowed some.

The backwater forced some large ice cakes out onto Water street and South Mill street.

Gorge Breaks.

The gorge gave away at 12:30 o'clock but not until cellars of the surrounding business district had been flooded and it had been found necessary to remove goods to higher levels in many of the business places.

The gorge had its inception about 11 o'clock in the creek at a point

Y. W. Board Meets Tuesday Evening

Members of the Y. W. C. A. board of directors had their regular meeting in the association building Tuesday evening. During the evening reports were given by the various secretaries of the association.

"How much will I have to pay for a good house in the suburbs?" The answer is in the Classified ads today.

Old Fashioned Mother Out Of Date Says Henry Ford

Editor's Note: Henry Ford, the world's richest man, has broken his silence on the subject of women. Up to this time he has consistently refused to have faith in women writers, declaring "they lack the requisite experience". However, the Detroit motor magnate, playing the role of "landlord" at his historic Wayside Inn, South Sudbury, Mass., gave to an International News Service special correspondent the first exclusive authorized interview ever granted to a noted woman writer on the subject of women. This is the first of a series of three articles.

By THEODATE GEOFFREY
World-Travelled journalist, mother of three children, author of "Powdered Ashes", "An Immigrant in Japan", etc.

SOUTH SUDBURY, Mass., Jan. 19.—"The old-fashioned mother is out of date," Henry Ford told me.

"No one wants to bring her back. We don't want to bring back things that are out of date. We can preserve the charm of the old life without its inconveniences."

We were in the "tap room" of the old Wayside Inn, built in 1686.

Mr. Ford had come to meet me, with his springy step that is in such striking contrast to his stooped shoulders, grey hair and deep-lined face.

He had just come from the old kitchen of the inn, in which he had spared no pains nor expense to gather a complete collection of old-time utensils and furniture.

I remarked that among these old colonial chairs, kettles and spinning wheels, I missed the figure of the old-fashioned mother, the virtual prisoner in those old kitchens, around whom the life of the household had revolved. Then Mr. Ford made his striking statement.

"We must take the drudgery out of housekeeping to set women free to develop," Mr. Ford went on.

"The first step is to do away with domesticated animals. We must stop feeding forage and grain to animals to be made into nourishment for us, find some way of producing the proper nourishment for the human being more directly, more scientifically.

"Beef, mutton, poultry, fish, are all labor-making forms of food. They are difficult to prepare and the process of cooking them takes too long a time.

"Cows, sheep, chickens must go, viewed as food for people.

"We can make more efficiently and more scientifically by formula. In our laboratories at Dearborn we have done something on that line already and are studying it constantly. However, it has not yet reached the state where it can be marketed efficiently nor are people ready for it yet.

"In diet, a great deal depends on what you are used to. Arctic exploration has taught us a lot about what a man can live on, in the way of rations scientifically compounded and economically compressed. Men like Stefansson have shown by experiment, in their long

Million And Half Gallons Of Liquor Legally Consumed

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Legitimate consumption of intoxicating beverages in the United States last year amounted to 1,588,954 gallons, the Treasury announced today.

That represented about one-per cent of the total consumption, of "pre-war stuff," industrial alcohol, home-brew and moonshine that trickled onto the market via the bootlegger, according to estimates of government experts.

Eighty eight thousand physicians were authorized to write liquor prescriptions at the beginning of 1927.

In 1926 they wrote 12,000,000 prescriptions, a decline of about 500,000 from the year before. Liquor called for on the prescriptions was a few thousand gallons less than in 1925.

General L. C. Andrews, dry chief, however, has pointed out that a vast amount of bootleg liquor is used for medicinal purposes.

Whiskey made up the principal part of the legitimately consumed medicinal spirits with 1,531,325 gallons. Other varieties of intoxicants sold on prescription were:

Pure alcohol, 1576 gallons. Brandy, 13,469 gallons. Gins, 4,576 gallons. Rum, 2,863 gallons. Wine, 35,145 gallons.

Under the new whiskey purchase bill proposed by Andrews, liquor for medicinal use would be confined to one brand of whiskey produced by a semi-official monopoly.

According to the survey, half of the medicinal liquor was sold in New York and Illinois, and one-third in New York City and Chicago. About half the doctors in those cities are authorized to write prescriptions.

Officials asserted that during the year a number of "fly-by-night" drug stores and physicians, whose chief business was liquor selling, have been eliminated. A general clean-up of the illegitimate drug stores and doctors took place during the year and liquor diverted to bootleg sources through these channels was cut materially, it was stated.

Andrews said that the enactment of the whiskey purchase bill will virtually end diversions of medicinal liquor. The prohibition unit will extend its operations against prescription-selling doctors and bootlegging druggists this year, officials declared.

Bomber Plane Is Destroyed

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19.—Bursting into flames in a blast which shook San Pedro, caused flames to shoot high into the air and resulted in the possible fatal injury of two sailors, a large navy bomber seaplane was almost completely destroyed in a gasoline explosion off Dead Man's Island in Los Angeles harbor today.

A. C. Shaffer, North Island Naval Base, San Diego, and G. O. Hagerty, U. S. S. Maryland, both aviation machinists' mates, first class were the two men injured.

They were rushed to the naval hospital ship Relief suffering from serious burns about the face, upper body and hands and were reported in a critical condition.

Fisher To Appoint Boxing Commissioners

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 19.—Because of the senate's refusal to confirm two Pinchot recess appointments to the state athletic commission, Gov. Fisher will have two appointments to make.

Neither Frank Weiner, Philadelphia, nor Harry T. Farrell, Nanticoke, were confirmed by the senate before it adjourned until next Monday. Harvey J. Boyle, Pittsburgh, has been confirmed and will continue in office until the end of his term.

New Governor Has Conference With Reporters

LIQUOR QUESTION ONE OF ENFORCEMENT

Fisher Will Send His Messages To Legislature To Be Read By Clerk

BY G. ROSS DOWNING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 19.—Governor John S. Fisher at his first daily conference with newspapermen today declared that amendments to the administrative code were being prepared and that they would be presented to the present legislature.

Governor Fisher in his inaugural address had mentioned the administrative code which was prepared and adopted during the Pinchot administration as being efficient in many respects but due for some amendments.

Enforcement Is Problem.

Governor Fisher said at the conference today that he believed that the liquor law question was one of "enforcement rather than enactment."

The new governor expressed his willingness to comment on anything believed to be of interest to the people of the state at the present time and freely outlined his position on several questions. On matters which he said "time was an important element" he refused to make comment at present.

The first real work of the new attorney general will be the amendments to the administrative code, the governor said, but he did not reveal exactly what those amendments will be or when they will be ready for presentation, to the legislature. A number of changes have been discussed but as yet Fisher has not made any recommendations to the attorney general.

Preparing Amendments.

Deputy Attorney General William A. Schnader is assisting the attorney general in preparing the amendments. Schnader originally drafted the code for former Governor Gifford Pinchot. A number of legal actions aimed to question its functioning failed to find judicial support during the Pinchot administration.

Governor Fisher in commenting on "more teeth in the dry laws" merely affirmed the declarations in his speech in which he hinted broadly that he did not favor much new legislation. Proper administration of the present laws, he asserted, was all that was necessary to make the state dry.

Instead of following the custom which Pinchot inaugurated of appearing in person to deliver his messages to the legislature, the new governor will send written communications. While he admitted that a personal appearance at times may be necessary his future communications "will be in the usual and customary manner." In Pennsylvania the customary manner is by written message.

Changed living conditions, he asserted, have made necessary a revision of the rates paid by the Workmen's Compensation Acts. He indicated that the majority of such revisions would be upward and that he would personally support such legislation.

Ministers Gather At Greenwood To Aid Rev. Maitland In Celebration

BRADDOCK QUARTET SINGS SELECTIONS

The 23rd spiritual birthday anniversary of Rev. Samuel R. Maitland was celebrated Tuesday in Greenwood Methodist Episcopal church with appropriate exercises.

The program of the day began at noon, when an elaborate chicken dinner was served in the dining room by the ladies of the congregation. The Ministerial Association of this city was well represented, and many other friends of Rev. Maitland.

The afternoon was featured by talks and music. Dr. E. A. Crooks, pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church, presided.

The principal address of the occasion was made by Dr. M. M. Pearce, president of Geneva College, who brought an excellent message on "The Spiritual Birth". Greetings were extended to Rev. Maitland by all the ministers present.

A chief attraction of the program was musical selections given by the Edgar Thompson male quartette from the Edgar Thompson Steel Works of Braddock, Pa. This quartette is the pride of the Braddock Steel Works and their numbers yesterday brought forth much applause from an appreciative audience.

Among the ministers who were

Johnson Asserts Cobb-Speaker Are Not Competent

Incompetency Rather Than Crookedness Caused Dismissal

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—Ban Johnson, president of the American league, was on record today with a statement that incompetency rather than "crookedness' was responsible for the dismissal from baseball of Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker.

"Talk of crookedness had no part in our decision to demand the resignations of these two managers" said Johnson. "They simply were not equal to their jobs and so they had to go."

Johnson's statement on the heels of intimations that his official head would go at the meeting Sunday, was regarded as an olive branch shoved in the general direction of Commissioner K. M. Landis in view of statements recently ascribed to Johnson that the "real story" of the Cobb-Speaker incident had not been told.

"The public has a right to expect when they go to a ball game, that the players are giving their best efforts to win and neither Cobb nor Speaker was getting the most out of his team."

Slayer Of Two Children Will Die In Chair

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 19.—Raymond Winter, 32, former street car conductor here, convicted of the slaying of Alexander Sabo, 8, and his six-year-old sister, Helen Sabo, on May 28, 1925, near Castle Shannon, Pa., was sentenced to be electrocuted at Rockview penitentiary by Judge A. B. Smith of Susquehanna county, in criminal court here today.

Charles B. Pritchard, Winter's counsel, made an unsuccessful motion for a new trial.

Three Strong Boxes Hold Center Stage Interest In Chaplin-Grey Fight

By MILLER HOLLAND
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19.—Interest in the Charles Chaplin-Lita Grey Chaplin divorce controversy today centered on the exact contents of the two studio safes and the secret box discovered in the bedroom of the comedian's Beverly Hills mansion.

W. I. Gilbert and Herman Spitzel, receivers appointed by a Los Angeles court to administer Chaplin's California holdings during the pendency of Mrs. Chaplin's divorce action, opened the three strong boxes last evening.

All three boxes disclosed a mass of miscellaneous papers and books and records, it was unofficially learned, but no riches in the form of either securities or cash made their appearance.

The two receivers were to appear before Superior Judge Walter Guerson this afternoon to give a detailed report of just what was found in the three safes.

Attorney William K. Young of Mrs. Chaplin's battery of lawyers supplied another development during the last 24 hours when he declared that Chaplin's obligation to pay the income taxes of more than $1,000,000 for which he had been sued by the government, accrued before his marriage and that consequently the government would be asked to take any judgment secured against the comedian from Chaplin's separate property.

This, Young explained, will leave the community property free of claims.

Court hearings in the case will be resumed tomorrow.

New Castle Skids Over Icy Streets

Conditions Underfoot Today The Worst Of Present Winter—Cold Wave Sidetracked

New Castle skidded around this morning, worse than at any time during the winter.

With the rain that started last night and continued this morning, making the icy streets partially covered with water, there was a slippery condition underfoot that is seldom duplicated here.

Many residents placed ashes on the sidewalks, others generous quantities of salt, and still others did nothing at all, to make the travelling safe.

Street car traffic was largely increased this morning, for it was the best means of travel downtown, or uptown. In the main highways of the city the ice is quite well worn off in some parts of the street but auto travel was precarious even on these streets. On side streets, a glare of ice was encountered.

The cold wave that was scheduled for this area last night, evidently got side-tracked, for there was little change in temperature during the night or this morning, the thermometer standing well above freezing.

It is the hope of most persons that the mild weather continues long enough that the coating of ice on sidewalks and streets is melted, before there is a return to frigid weather conditions.

State Capital Is Fast Returning To Normal Stage

Inauguration Of Governor Fisher On Tuesday Notable Spectacle

ENTIRE STATE HAS REPRESENTATION

Some Of Sidelights On Inauguration Are Given By News Man

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 19.—Just like a top wearing down to a stop after a fast whirl, Harrisburg is returning to more or less calm after what is said to have been the most colorful, most elaborate inauguration of a governor in the history of the State of Pennsylvania.

As this is being written, a few bands and bugle corps are still blaring away, but the blaring is a farewell to the capitol, a sort of last blast before they leave. The hotel lobbies are filled with a buzzing milling crowd, yelling goodbyes and urging each other to get started for the train before the special pulls out for Reading, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Clearfield, Washington, or wherever they happen to come from.

Study In State Folks

To one who is interested in Pennsylvania, the inaugural parade here on Tuesday afternoon was a study in Keystone folks. The city boys from Philadelphia rubbed elbows with the hard coal miners from Luzerne county, the Indian folks, here because "their John" was being inaugurated, seemed just a little awed by all the splendor and excitement. It must have been different from their home town.

Every corner of the state was represented by marching clubs, although there was one club, famous for many years, which was conspicuous by its absence, the Americus club of Pittsburgh.

Bands, and bands, and bands, tooting and blowing and blaring, banners, and flags, and gaily colored uniforms, thousands of people lined up on the Plaza, on Third

Danger Of War With Mexico Is Believed Passed

Washington Convinced Recent War Scare Is Virtually Dispelled

ARBITRATION OF TROUBLES IS PLAN

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The danger of war with Mexico, which has been lurking in the shadows of the land law dispute, has virtually been dispelled.

This was generally accepted in Washington today following Secretary of State Kellogg's announcement of last night committing the administration to settlement of the Mexican dispute by arbitration. Kellogg said he "welcomed" the Robinson resolution, which declares it to be the sense of the Senate that the controversy should be adjusted by peaceable means.

Seek for Avenue

As President Calles already is on record in favor of the same kind of procedure, it remained only to find an avenue today through which the approach to arbitration could be made. Calles informed a committee of protestant clergymen ten days ago that he was entirely willing to see the dispute go before a bar of expert and judicial opinion.

When Calles made this proposal,

House Of David Suit March 15

State's Suit To Dissolve House Of David To Come To Trial

(International News Service)
BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Jan. 19.—The state's suit to appoint a receiver and dissolve "King" Ben Purnell's House of David cult will go to trial in circuit court here about March 15, Prosecutor George H. Bookwalter said today.

Bookwalter and George R. Nichols, special attorney for the state, have filed an amended bill charging Purnell with forcing celibacy on married members of his colony, separating children from their parents to practice revolting crimes against them without the parents' knowledge, compelling girls to wed in group marriages to cover up his alleged excesses, confiscating the funds of "religiously demented persons" and teaching perjury and disloyalty to the state and nation.

If the state wins this suit the prosecution later in criminal suits will endeavor to send Purnell to the penitentiary for life on criminal assault charges of Bessie May Woodworth, Gladys Bamford Rubel and Ruth Bamford Reed.

Often times I've sat and wied, lads of stature long and high, lads of six feet two or seven who looked down on you and I, and I've envied them their inches, but here's where I get my worth, when I travel on a sleeper in a short sized Pullman berth. For the lads of heighth or stature, tell me they are oft displeased, for the berths just fit them snugly, in the region of their knees. While we folks of shorter inches sink our trilbies long and deep, and we get a chance to chuckle as we get our needed sleep. But the tall guy isn't lucky on a Pullman berth I wot, and by morning he is looking like a double lovers' knot. There are lots of compensations for the short lad you can guess, Weather's. 38 and soggy; disagreeable too? Answer's yes.

Police Chief Is Witness Against Pastor-Slayer

Chief Made Arrest Of Rev. Norris Shortly After Slaying Accused

BY KENNETH WENDLER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

COURT ROOM, AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 19.—Henry Lee, chief of police at Fort Worth, was the first witness called when the murder trial of Rev. J. Frank Norris was resumed today after a postponement yesterday occasioned by the pastor's illness.

Lee arrested the preacher after the killing of D. E. Chipps, wealthy Fort Worth lumberman, in the building of the First Baptist church of which Norris was pastor, last July.

The officer testified he found the minister and L. H. Nutt, a church deacon, in the study when he and other policemen went to the scene of the shooting.

A state's objection was sustained when Marvin Simpson, defense counsel, asked Lee why he took Norris so quickly from the scene.

"Didn't you tell me that you did not want to testify here because you had a job you did not want to lose?" Simpson asked.

"No, not exactly that," the chief replied.

Mayor H. C. Meacham of Fort Worth who appointed Lee has subscribed $15,000 to the prosecution. It was because of Rev. Norris' pulpit attacks on Meacham that Chipps, the mayor's friend, had called on the pastor to protest the afternoon he was slain, according to previous testimony.

Lee denied that Chipps was 'bad' when drunk and said Chipps "always had been obedient to officers". Several persons testified the lumberman drank freely and was disagreeable when under the influence of liquor.

Sentences Nine Convicted On Fraud Charges

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 19.—Nine persons convicted last December in federal court here on charges of fraudulent banking practices involving several Somerset and Cambria county banks, faced Federal Judge R. M. Gibson here today and received sentences ranging from terms in the penitentiary to paroles.

Charles M. Wilson, Johnstown, was sentenced to two years in Atlanta penitentiary and W. H. Wilson to one year and six months. Frank Gabriel and Harry Waters were given four months in Somerset county jail, and Fred Sprengel, J. H. Cooney, Don Simpson and Sam Silverman, were paroled for two years under the custody of Samuel Lenhart of Pittsburgh.

trips, that what counts is what a man gets used to.

"But you have to remember that you can only get out of a machine what you feed into it. You must give the right materials to get desired results.

"Getting food from domesticated animals is a highly expensive way of producing energy."

I tried to imagine how it would taste to make a dinner out of a "compressed chemical compound" instead of a juicy steak. Then I asked Mr. Ford how he regulated his own diet. He is very spare in build, but wiry and seemingly full of energy.

"Oh, I have to have a diet planned out. I must have a balanced ration," he admitted. "It doesn't do to trust to our natural appetites on that sort of thing. Why, I have seen people who were so fond of sugar that they would be willing to live on it for a while. There's lots of energy in sugar, but it is a special kind of energy, too expensive to feed the body that way. We must use science in planning it out."

Mr. Ford is playing the part of "mine host" in the 250-year-old hostelry, built when "men lived in a grander way, with ampler hospitality," and set in the snow-clad fields and woods of South Sudbury.

The tap room of this "red horse tavern" is low-ceiled, with oaken panelling, worn old tables and chairs and settees of pine and oak, and in one corner stands the ancient bar with bottles and flip glasses ranged ready behind it, just as it was when Washington and Lafayette rode up the old Boston-Worcester postroad and as it was in later years when Henry Wadsworth Longfellow wrote in "Tales of a Wayside Inn:"

"A region of repose it seems,
"A place of slumber and of dreams,
"Remote among the wooded hills."

street, on Walnut street, and for blocks and blocks along the line the streets were black with people.

In Reviewing Stand

And reviewing it all sat a group of men and women in the reviewing stand who represented various angles of Pennsylvania politics. For Gifford Pinchot, attired in a black sombrero it was a sort of swan song. For the man next to him, Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the United States treasury, it was the final act which brings his wing of the party into power.

For John S. Fisher it must have been a wonderful scene for it marked his ascension to the office to which he aspired four years ago, the office which tops a long list of varied experiences. School teacher, country lawyer, state senator, banking commissioner and now governor of an empire of ten million people. And at his side a smiling, buxom lassie who will be the mistress of the mansion, the first lady of Pennsylvania, Miss Mary Fisher, not beautiful as beauty is some times judged but with a smile that seems infectious and a charm that will win her hosts of friends in the next four years. That is providing Tatnall Brown doesn't carry her off to New Jersey, for the young lady has already announced her engagement.

Glorious Occasion

It was a glorious inauguration. Overhead the weatherman had provided a day almost spring like in its balminess, a sun that seemed to smile down a propitious omen for this new governor of ours, and an air that was suspiciously like what we can expect in April.

But the balmy weather didn't last all day. Hardly had the parade finished and the crowds began dispersing than a combination of rain and snow began falling, bedraggling some of the gay uniforms, but not dampening the spirits of the crowds which were still milling up and down the streets.

The General Assembly did little on Tuesday. Some bills were presented and passed to committees, the members greeted the new governor and lieutenant governor, and adjourned until next Monday night. Then the work will start.

INAUGURAL PARADE HIGHLIGHTS

The insouciance which native Harrisburgers have been displaying over the inaugural disappeared with the formation of the parade and they seemed as interested as the chap from the country who was here on his first trip.

Some of the marching clubs were in line just because they wanted to be, and apparently some were in line as a gesture of strength. Paul W. Houck, political leader of Schuylkill county had the "Paul W. Houck Club" in line with 1750 men and 150 women. The men wore purple slickers and the women a greenish blue slicker. Mr. Houck is making a bid for the chairmanship of the Workmen's Compensation Board.

Philadelphia had a line of marchers that must have numbered two thousand. At the head was a banner with the picture of William S. Vare on it. With A. W. Mellon at his side in the reviewing stand and the picture of Vare going by, the retiring governor, Gifford Pinchot probably didn't get much kick out of it.

People of Welsh extraction got a good break out of the day's events. Lieutenant Governor Arthur H. James, Secretary of Labor James J. Davis and retiring Lieutenant Governor David J. Davis posed for the cameramen for what was termed a "Welsh Trio." And then to add to the Cymric flavor of it, the first band going by the reviewing stand, the band of the 108th Field Artillery played "Men Of Harlech."

Pennsylvania had an opportunity to see for themselves just what sort of a division of National Guard they have. The infantry, the artillery, cavalry, machine guns, tanks and various trains were in line and reminded one of the old 28th Division during the World war. With some exceptions of course. New Castle men who were in the 28th would have recognized Corporal Robert Cowan of the 108th Field Artillery as Captain Robert Cowan of Headquarters Troop, 104th Cavalry. First Sergeant Raymond Teefy, formerly of F Battery, 108th Field Artillery could have been recognized as Captain Raymond Teefy of the same battery. But instead of being a horse drawn unit of 4.7 pieces, Captain Teefy commanded a battery of motorized 155 mm field pieces.

The Frankford Post of the American Legion, Philadelphia, Pa., had their crack band out and it was a real military band. They got an immense hand.

Johnstown, Pa., had a Home Folks club in line which boasted of a fife and drum corps, dressed like French poilus. A splendid corps and they attracted a lot of attention.

The Kiwanis Club of Plymouth, Pa., had a Boys' Band in line dressed as coal miners. Plymouth is across the river from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Lieutenant Governor James' home and the Luzerne county people made no attempt to keep the identity of the home county of the new lieutenant governor.

Herman Early, whom many New Castle ex-service men of the 28th division will remember as the first sergeant of A company, 103rd Motor Supply train, in Camp Hancock, Ga., was at the head of the Harrisburg Republican club, a natty looking organization. This club owns its own clubhouse, a building worth over $100,000.00.

Mrs. Worthing Scranton, who spoke in New Castle during the campaign in October, had her Lackawanna County Woman's club in line, and the ladies got a hand.

Late Monday evening, Lawrence county checked in with some more arrivals for the inauguration. Attorney Clyde V. Ailey was present, as was David J. Jones, Matthew A. Riley, and President Bell of the Ellwood City Motor Federation.

Sharon was represented by John C. Fisher, a nephew of Governor Fisher's who operates the Columbia Theatre in Sharon.

Governor Fisher was serenaded early Tuesday morning by a Boys' Band from Kittanning. He spoke to the boys and told them they were really neighbors of his, as they come from Armstrong county.

General Edward C. Martin, auditor general, showed the Harrisburgers what Washington county had. Two floats from his county were in line. One of them had a pen of sheep and a huge lump of coal on the float with a sign, "sheep on top and coal and oil underneath." The second float had a miniature oil well pumping Washington county oil.

Lawrence county had but one officer of the National Guard in line. Captain Howell Jenkins of Ellwood City paraded with his regiment, the 107th Field Artillery and had four men in line also. New Castle had none, the answer given here, being, that "New Castle was to far to bring troops from." All of which is a laugh.

Official Washington was represented in the reviewing stand. Secretary of the Treasury A. W. Mellon, Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, Secretary of the Navy Work, Senator and Mrs. George Wharton Pepper and Senator -Elect William S. Vare. State Chairman W. L. Mellon was with them.

Indiana county and Cambria county, the one the home county of Governor Fisher and the other the neighboring county, were here in force. Arm brassards marked them and in the parade they carried red, white and blue umbrellas.

And of course the usual army of office seekers were present. Some of them will get what they want, some will have to be content with a little less, and some will go back home empty handed.

Chi Omega Sorority At Westminster Celebrates Second Anniversary

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 19.—A party commemorating the second anniversary of the installation of the chapter of the Chi Omega Sorority at Westminster College, was held Monday evening at the home of Miss Elizabeth Stewart member of the Westminster faculty who is advisor of the organization.

The evening was spent in playing games and a program of musical numbers was rendered. Eight members of the Freshman class were guests of honor.

Saturday evening, the sorority held a banquet in honor of its alumni at the Hermitage Inn on the Sharon-Mercer road.

Following the banquet, Miss Orpha Jones of Sharon, an alumnus, gave the history of Phi Theta Pi and its installation by Chi Omega. Miss Dorothy Hankey of Parnassus, another grad, gave a toast to the active chapter, and Miss Helen Davidson of Pittsburgh, president of the chapter, gave a toast to the alumni.

Miss Dorothy Wray of Sharon, spoke concerning the progress of the fraternity in the last year. Miss Mary Eccles of Sharpsville, then sang: "In the Land of the Sky Blue Waters," and "The Vow."

The sorority had as a special guest, Mrs. Ruth Morgan of Sharon, a graduate of the University of Colorado and an alumna of Zeta chapter of Chi Omega at that institution. Sorority patroness Miss Stewart was also present.

above where Hutchison street intersects Croton avenue. At about 12 o'clock the ice broke on the section just above the East Washington street bridge and immediately gorged at the bridge as the water forced the ice higher.

The ice reached levels as high as the overhanging part of the New Castle Dry Goods company building and even higher and water and ice were thrown up on the yards of Neshannock avenue properties upstream.

When the ice between the two bridges broke and started to gorge at the South Mill street bridge, it began to look as if it would be necessary to use some extreme measures to protect the property in the downtown business district, but 30 minutes later the danger was apparently all eliminated by the water forcing the channel below the Mill street bridge.

The gorging of the ice afforded an unusual spectacle that was witnessed by hundreds of people. Heavy rain of the past 12 hours occasioned the condition.

Sinclair Will Be Summoned To Washington

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, will be summoned to appear here early next week to enter his plea to the indictment charging contempt in connection with his refusal to answer questions propounded to him by the senate committee on public lands and surveys, District Attorney Peyton Gordon announced today.

The supreme court has decided one of the questions involved in the Daugherty case—the legal authority of the senate to subpoena witnesses.

Nick Faella Observes Notable Anniversary

Nick Faella, one of the well known members of the city police force, on Tuesday celebrated the 40th anniversary of his departure from his home town in Italy and starting for this country, where he had resided ever since, by patroling his regular downtown beat.

It was on January 18, 1887, that Nick left his home in Pietramelaro, near Naples, for the land of promise, where he hoped to better his condition and make his home.

He landed in New York City on February 9, 1887, and came direct to this city and has been a resident here ever since. He married here and has raised a family here and for the past 11 years has been a member of the police force of the city. He is glad that he decided to come to this country as a young man and glad that he made New Castle his home.

Send Ballot Boxes From Philadelphia

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19.—The first batch of approximately 2,000 ballot boxes, registration books and other records of the November election in this city will begin its journey to Washington this afternoon in ten motor trucks.

Each truck will be in charge of one of the senate's clerks and custodians of the city.

The contents of the ballot boxes will be examined and counted by Senator James A. Reed's committee investigating the election following complaints made by William B. Wilson, defeated Democratic candidate for United States Senator, that Senator-elect William S. Vare, was not elected "honestly."

Sheriff, Not Paid, Declares "Strike"

EASTON, Pa., Jan. 19. — The sheriff of Northhampton county, on strike against the state of Pennsylvania, has refused to serve papers in cases growing out of alleged violations of liquor padlock injunctions by certain persons in Bethlehem. Sheriff Spengler's letter, notifying the state of his refusal to act, was put in the mail this morning.

He alleges the state owes him $500 and won't pay it, despite repeated demands. He further contends the law says he shall be paid in advance for such services as the state is asking him to perform. He not only wants his back fees, but he also insists on advance pay hereafter.

This year's championship meet of the Intercollegiate Winter Sports Union will be held in Montreal on March 4, with McGill University as host.

informally, the State Department ignored it. The department was similarly uncommunicative toward a similar proposal advanced by Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho, in his speech last week criticising the administration's policy in Latin America. The Robinson resolution, however, was backed by a recognized majority in the Senate, and Kellogg abandoned his policy of silence to support it.

"I see nothing inappropriate or untimely or in an expression of opinion on this subject by the Senate, and I welcome it," Kellogg said.

GOVERNOR FISHER'S INAUGURAL

INAUGURATION of the administration of Governor John S. Fisher in Pennsylvania, which took place at Harrisburg on Tuesday marks another notable turn in the affairs of the keystone commonwealth.

Following a four year period during which Former Governor Gifford Pinchot instituted many so called reforms, and incidentally sought to advance his own political interests in most of them, the government at Harrisburg is being taken over by a substantial citizen, who in his inaugural gives promise of a most sane and business like administration.

Governor Fisher's outline of the program of his administration as given in his address at the inaugural is one that will meet with approval throughout the state, in large measure. He urged nothing radical or revolutionary, but throughout his address there was the promise of a business administration of the government of the state:

With his previous experience in affairs of state; with his abundant business experience and ability; and his desire to carry out the best administration possible, the era of Governor Fisher advances with most promising indications.

NEWSPAPER IDEALS

EVERY newspaper publisher and editor wants his newspaper to be the best it is possible to issue. The difficulty is in the differences of opinion as to what constitutes the best newspaper. An editor asked his readers how he could make his paper ideal, with this result:

"Cut out the crimes, the murders, the sensational divorce case reports," said the nice people.

"Cut out the accidents, the railway and steamship disasters," said the people who "couldn't bear" to read such things.

"Cut out the politics," said the old-fashioned woman, "I don't understand it and haven't time for it."

"Cut out the so-called funny pictures," said the careful mother. "Such pictures aren't funny, and they're bad, very bad, for children."

"Cut out the woman's page," said the female with the strong mind. "It's mushy, trashy, trivial; an insult to our sex."

"Cut out sports and theatres," said the intellectual. "Both are bad influences, and both have received altogether too much notice."

"Cut out ————," began another and still another, but the publisher beat them to it.

"Stop, all of you," he cried. "On second thought I have decided to cut out myself. It is no use trying to publish the ideal newspaper until I come across the ideal reader."

Without readers no newspaper can live, and until humanity has come to live an ideal life there will be no ideal newspaper; for nobody would read one that spoke only of virtue and never of evil. Newspapers are published to print the news; the nature of news is what people make it.

AVOIDING ILLNESS

ALTHOUGH an elevator or a steam engine may be running well, although there may be no evidence of weakness, periodical examinations are made by competent inspectors with a view to detecting hidden defects which, if not attended to may cause trouble. By the same token it appears that it would be a good thing if the delicate human organism were periodically inspected by physicians for signs of trouble.

Most persons probably will be willing to agree that this is so, and yet at the same time will prefer to run the risk of sickness rather than submit to a medical examination when they feel perfectly well. It will take a long, patient campaign of education to induce the people to have themselves examined by a doctor two or three times a year, or even once a year, though it is becoming customary to have the teeth inspected.

Happily a start in the direction has been made in the medical inspection of school children. As the good results coming from this are recognized there will be more interest in the subject on the part of grown-ups. It may be that a generation hence the object at which the physicians are aiming will be attained, and there will be fewer cases of persons learning on being examined for life insurance that they have diseases of which they were, until then, unaware.

Commends News

The News is in receipt of a letter from R. J. Tully, general superintendent of the Carnegie Steel company works and furnaces of this city, in which an editorial on the remarkable record made for safety in the plants of this city, which appeared in The News on January 5 is mentioned.

The editorial, which was on the basis of the record that not a fatality from accident was recorded on the county coroner's report for the entire year of 1926 from any of the city's industries, cited the wonderful work in accident prevention being done through the continuous safety first efforts in the big plants in New Castle.

Mr. Tully's letter says:

Mr. Fred L. Rentz, President,
New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.

My Dear Fred:—

Attached you will find a photostat copy of a letter sent to all general superintendents of the Carnegie Steel company by Mr. L. H. Burnett, assistant to president, calling attention to the editorial in the New Castle News of Wednesday, January 5, 1927.

I most sincerely second Mr. Burnett in what he says relative to this tribute to "Industrial Safety" in New Castle.

Sincerely yours,
R. J. TULLY,
General Superintendent.

Mr. Burnett's Letter.

Pittsburgh, Pa.
January 8, 1927.

To all General Superintendents:—

I enclose, herewith a copy of an editorial from the New Castle News of January 5, 1927.

This is one of he best tributes to industrial safety that I have ever seen in print.

Very truly yours,
L. H. BURNETT,
Assistant to President.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:02. Sun rises tomorrow 7:19.

After some men buy a car they feel like running for something and then run for something hard like a culvert.

A good neighbor is often one who shovels the snow beyond his property line.

There is talk of Harry Thaw remarrying Evelyn. We think that a good idea as there is no use spoiling two families.

It's the uncertainty about the certain things in the world that causes all the big worry.

An American nurse saved 36 babies that had been bitten by a dog in Jerusalem. Our money is always on the American nurse doing the right thing at the right time no matter in what country she may be in or under which circumstances she may be situated.

Feminism won't be completely triumphant until the gentlemen retire after dinner to avoid the rough stuff.

Don't live your life so that when you get into a taxi cab the driver will leave the vacant sign up.

Seeing a robin at this time of the year should not be so exciting. There are robins here the year round.

The man who stands 50 in his intelligence test isn't necessarily a half wit.

A Pittsburgh preacher in his wisdom said young couples should exercise as much care in geting married as they use in buying an automobile. This no doubt holds good on the used cars also.

Swimming is a fine way to reduce. The boy who swam the Catline channel lost 25 pounds during the jaunt across the channel.

Just because all men are born equal is no reason they have to stay that way.

A man's reputation is generally bad when he is intoxicated.

We have said that we would pay no attention to chain letters and we would not write to nine others to avoid bad luck or break the chain. We will not go back to the army captain who started the chain when we think we are approaching bad luck because we did not follow instructions, but will hunt up the local birds who send us the letters and deal with them in a manner fitting the bad luck we may suffer. We have received two such leters in the past week and we are asked to do the same thing in both which would be impossible to get the result dreamed of.

There are people who not only never do anything for themselves but also do not know the other fellow exists.

A strict drivers law for automobile drivers might decrease accidents more than a liability insurance law would. Some mighty careless bozos get driver's licenses.

If we did send out bill passers which we never would do or any other person who would call at the homes of the citizens of New Castle, the first order we would give them would be that under no circumstances should they approach a home except up the front walk on the walk to the door or the rear door on the walk. Galolping over grass plots and ramming through shrubbery would not be allowed on the part of the person calling on the citizen whose favor was being courted through printed matter or other means.

We like the rule of the Boy Scouts which requires every scout to do at least one good turn every day. If humans would also to one or more good turns each day this world would soon be such a nice place to live in no one would get tired and want to leave it.

Lawrence county ought to get along fairly well during the next four years in the way of getting what is coming to us from Harrisburg. The men representing us there are there to represent the people of this county and not some personal bile they want to spill to attract attention to themselves. A majority of the cabinet officers are from Western Pennsylvania as is also the new governor.

The 17 year old boy who won the $25,000 prize for swimming the and never smoked and never took a drink and he reached California on a dilapidated motor cyke and part way on foot. His only swetheart has been his mother. A chap like that could hardly fail in anything he undertook He has lived right and profited mightily by it.

All the Pinchot henchmen who held office in Harrisburg including those from Massachusetts and other states walked the plank when Gov. Fisher assumed charge. The governor is a Pennsylvanian and when he gets through with his term he will go back to his home in Indiana. The carpetbaggers all hiked back home, and some others are yet to get their final check.

The cities that are now erecting signs at the city limits welcoming motorists, before long will be painting the glad tidings on the roofs of their public buildings for the benefit of aviators, 'Drop In."

A news item says that a single oyster will lay from one to 8 million eggs in a year. Gosh, wonder what the married ones will do?

No climate will behave itself all the time and the frosts reported in Florida and California are proof of it.

January sales now have the call. The slogan to "shop early" is still in vogue, but use News advertising as the shopping guide.

A roadhouse in Ohio was raided and the police caught five bootleggers, two burglars, two bandits and three gunmen. That is probably a fair sample of the average roadhouse.

It seems just as though human beings cannot possibly get away from the increased cost of living no matter where they go. In Turkestan and some of the nearby Hindo countries, the cost of wives have gone up.

A Chicago woman paid only $137.50 to have her husband removed and she had $2,000 insurance on him. With such opportunities as that it seems that no woman need to be bothered very long with an undersirable mate.

The second shipment of royalty was received O. K. the other day at New York. William of Sweden is here but he didn't send his last name along with him.

A member of the legislature in New York proposes a law that proposals of marriage must be made in writing in the future. If such a law is passed the girl will have to use their hypnotic influence to get boys to say it on paper, which will be a little bit harder than on their knees.

The bimbo who wrote the hokum about Snow, Snow, Beautiful Snow, must have lived in Cuba or some other snow proof burg.

What an old fashioned town Gary, Ind. must be to get all stirred up over bare knees. Don't they know that skirts are to be worn shorter this coming spring and summer.

The eyes of the entire world have been on them knees for the past two years.

A young bootlegger who had been somewhat successful handling the fiery liquid decided he would go into the biggest game of all, that of making counterfeit money, but he gave himself away when he made $15 bills. It is the old case of the shoemaker failing to stick to his last.

So many demands have been made on the clerks of the courts of Los Angeles for information relative to the unprintable charges of Lita Gray Chaplin against her husband Charles Chaplin, that the clerk, an enterprising kind of man, has had the allegations printed in pamphlet form which he is selling at 25 cents a piece and is doing some business. That's western enterprise all right, and soon the whole world will know about Charlie Chaplin and his actions off the screen.

A man who marries a wife who can classify as a "rolling pin engineer" always has something to look forward to when he goes home.

Threatened war with Mexico is almost a National policy now. With the Mexicans being educated from generation to generation to expect it and some jingolists here always harping on it, it takes skilful diplomacy to avoid it.

You'd think, to follow the direction of men's eyes, that beauty is only skin deep.

The public seems to be getting along very well without the pictures made by the fat and lumbering Arbuckle, and it can do equally as well without those of the little Chaplin. Many of his pictures had a suggestive thought in them and were low-brow and trashy, and won't be missed much.

Mr. Firestone says that in seven years' time his African rubber plantation will be hitting on high and we will be free of the British domination of the rubber business. We wonder when that time comes if we will have to pray for relief from the domination of Mr. Firestone.

If Newspapers Stopped.

The newspapers are the means says the Urabana Democrat by which the energies of the nation are co-ordinated. It is through newspaper publicity that the people are incited to co-operate. The people who do not read the newspapers are like the man who attempts to walk in the procession but makes no effort to keep step to the music. He might as well retire from the line of march.

On mules we find two legs behind
And two we find before;
We stand behind before we find
What the two behind be for!

No congress would dare tax incomes as gullibility does.

As Calm as an Elm.
Honor Ben Franklin.
Terrible Chinese, But.
He Just Kept on Going.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.

This, as Will Rogers would say, is written on the train, traveling from Washington to New York.

Millions of Americans will be glad to hear that the president, seen two hours ago, seemed in perfect health, full of energy, and amid all the Nicaraugua-Mexico excitement, calm as a Vermont elm.

What appears to interest the president just now is internal improvement, projects for canals from the farms and factories to the sea, and development of unused waters for power and irrigation; in particular development of the Colorado river.

President Coolidge speaks just so fast and no faster. He knows every word that he is going to say before he says it. Words do not come out and surprise him, as happens with others.

You can't hurry him, or choose his subject for him. And as for holding him back, when he means to go in a certain direction, why, to "draw up Leviathan with a hook" would be child's play compared with it.

He's a good president, first because he knows what he wants, and second, because he knows what seven millions, more than half the voters, male and female, want. He knows what the others want also.

We are becoming an old nation with a respectably distant past. Had Benjamin Franklin lived until Monday he would have been 221 years old. Did you drink to his memory and that of the fine mother that made him? He was a great American, and busy. "The Benjamin Franklins", organized to honor his name, says he distinguished himself as "business man, inventor, printer, editor, author, statesman, diplomat, harmonizer, public servant, educator, philosopher, philanthropist, benefactor."

Quite a list, and also he was a good swimming teacher, making his living by it in England. Above all, he was wise. He lived on a few pennies a day, no meat, that he might save to buy books—not to buy a ticket to "the fight", dear young gentlemen of 1927.

The best thing he ever said was "The noblest question in the world is, what good may I do in it?"

The next best thing, perhaps, was "A wise man will desire no more than what he may get justly, use soberly, distribute cheerfully, and leave contentedly."

Chinese mobs are looting Christian churches. Too bad, and it fills us with horror. Americans, British, French and other travelers brought home all sorts of loot from Chinese temples after the Boxer uprising. But that was different. The Chinese are only heathens.

Chinese mobs have beaten American women, it is said, and abducted Christian Chinese girls from institutions. You cannot believe quite all you hear.

Worst of all, stories of Christians slaughtering Chinese babies are spread among mobs, rousing them to brutal fury. How can even the lowest heathen, we ask, spread or believe such monstrous lies?

But very good Christians in Austria, Russia and elsewhere have spread just such lies about the Jewish people within the last few years, causing massacres and instituting villainous legal charges based on alleged use of Christian children's blood in the Passover ritual.

We Christians can learn several things from the Chinese, but not brutality.

George Young, a boy of 17, lived with his mother in Canada. She, a widow, had $135. She gave the money to George, who has courage, and said he would swim the cold, one-mile deep, 21-mile wide channel from Catalina island to the mainland, to win William Wrigley Jr's. $25,000 and buy his mother a California home.

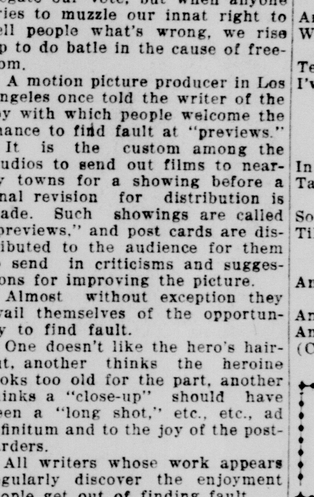

He bought a motorcycle, started for California with what money he had left, got there with 50 cents in his pocket, beat 101 contestants that also wanted the Wrigley $25,000 and his mother will move to California.

Observe, young gentlemen, that George Young explains it by saying: "I just kept going. I had cramps, too, in the cold water. But I turned over on my back and kicked the cramps out of my stomach. You don't suppose I expected to get $25,000 for walking around the block."

He kept going and kicked out the cramps, which represent discouragement in ordinary life, and he won. Make a note of it.

In Day's News

Dr. William W. Keen of Philadelphia, the "Grand Old Man" of the surgical profession in America, will receive greetings from many parts of the world today, on the occasion of his 90th birthday anniversary. Dr. Keen has long been recognized as one of the world leaders of his profession. Born and educated in Philadelphia, he served as a military surgeon in the Civil War and at the close of that conflict returned to his native city to begin the practice of his profession. He became noted as an instructor and lecturer in surgery and his books and writings are recognized as standards by the members of the profession the world over. Honors have come to him from the Royal College of Surgeons of England, the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh, the Italian Surgical Society, the French Academy of Medicine and from the surgical societies of Germany and Belgium.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

THE LIBERTY TO FIND FAULT

The thing that makes the world bearable is our freedom to find fault.

As long as we cannot remould the world nearer to our heart's desire, there is some consolation in telling it what is the matter with it.

What "freedom of speech" really means is "freedom to find fault." And for it men will gladly die.

There never has been much objection to anyone's speaking until he begins to find fault.

If a man were prevented from finding fault with his meals, he would feel that his personality had been squeezed down to an infinitesimal part of the hole in the doughnut.

We don't mind if the politicians negate our vote, but when anyone tries to muzzle our innat right to tell people what's wrong, we rise up to do batle in the cause of freedom.

A motion picture producer in Los Angeles once told the writer of the joy with which people welcome the chance to find fault at "previews."

It is the custom among the studios to send out films to nearby towns for a showing before a final revision for distribution is made. Such showings are called "previews," and post cards are distributed to the audience for them to send in criticisms and suggestions for improving the picture.

Almost without exception they avail themselves of the opportunity to find fault.

One doesn't like the hero's haircut, another thinks the heroine looks too old for the part, another thinks a "close-up" should have been a "long shot," etc., etc., ad infinitum and to the joy of the postcarders.

All writers whose work appears regularly discover the enjoyment people get out of finding fault.

An error in grammar brings a flood of letters; a misquoted line a deluge.

In this latter there is another element. Finding a mistake where no mistake is supposed to be, adds a puzzle-solving thrill. It is like finding a face hidden among the leaves of a tree or in the lines of a cloud.

All in all, the chief back-slapper of the world's ego is the ability to find fault.

Tomorrow—"Coming Into My Own."

Bible Thought For Today

GOD'S WAYS NOT OUR WAYS:—Wilt thou keep the old way which wicked men have trodden? Who said unto God, Depart from us: and, What can the Almighty do for us? Yet He filled their houses with good things. Job 22:15, 17, 18.

PRAYER:—Lord, Thou hast put gladness in my heart more than in the time when their corn and new wine were increased.

Politicians really are helping the farmer if there's anything in the theory that the study of language is beneficial.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

SOME SERVICE.

The railroads of America have been for many years competing with each other in the matter of luxurious accommodations for their passenger trains. There is no railroad having any pride whatsoever, but operates a Train de Luxe. The three Western railroads serving Southern California have recently cut their fast train schedules by nine hours between Chicago and Los Angeles, and added several new luxuries for their passengers. Neither these nor any of the other great Eastern and Western roads stop with the addition of a barber, a bath, a manicurist, radio, telephone, and similar devices, to comfort their patrons, but the management of the roads are constantly calling upon the train crews to do everything in their power to make life more pleasant for the passengers.

The latest bull's eye has been scored by the Illinois Central whose service may now be described in its advertisements: "All manner of trips arranged,—affairs of the heart given special attention, and weddings done on railroad schedule." The following has been clipped from the news columns:

"A young man recently bought a ticket from Goddard, Alabama, to Corinth, Miss. He informed the conductor on the train that he desired to be married in Corinth upon arrival there. He further stated that if he could be married there before the next train to Birmingham went through, he would use that train, the Seminole Limited, for his wedding trip.

The conductor was hot on the trail of passenger receipts. He wired from the first station to Corinth, instructed the agent there to procure a marriage license, and a minister. And when the train pulled into Corinth, girl, license, and minister awaited on the platform. The rites were performed, and the couple were off on the next train."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

INDOLENT

Let the pleasures go, I say,
I've got work to do today!
Still the laughter seems to call
And the shouting in the hall
And the racing, running feet
Tell of pleasures mighty sweet,
And I know the setting sun
Will not find my duty done.

Tell the friend to go away,
I've got work to do today!
But I hear an old-time voice
And I make the easier choice,
And I change that stern command
Just to take him by the hand,
In he comes, and there we stay
Talking precious hours away.

So it goes and so it will
Till my form lies cold and still,
For a friend means more to me
Than my little victory,
And their laughter and their love
Have a value far above
Any gain which I might know,
And I let my duties go.

POEMS I LOVE

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"The Last Word," by Matthew Arnold.

Matthew Arnold must not be confused with Sir Edwin Arnold, the author of "The Light of Asia." The first was a great poet, the second a mere stripling in comparison. Matthew Arnold was born in 1822, and died in 1888. His father was the famous Dr. Arnold of Rugby, on whom there is a fine chapter in Strachey's "Some Eminent Victorians." He himself was deeply interested in education, particularly in foreign countries, and he rendered conspicuous service to the British government on several occasions. But it is, of course, as a poet that he stands pre-eminent, and on his poetic achievement his fame will endure.

Creep into thy narrow bed,
Creep, and let no more be said!
Vain thy onset! all stands fast.
Thou thyself must break at last.

Let the long contention cease!
Geese are swans, and swans are geese.
Let them have it how they will!
Thou are tired; best be still.

They out-talked thee, hissed thee, tore thee?
Better men fared thus before thee;
Fired their ringing shot and passed,
Hotly charged—and sank at last.

Charge once more, then, and be dumb!
Let the victors, when they come,
When the forts of folly fall,

Thrilling Stories Of Cars Skidding Told By Motorists

Pedestrians and motorists may not have any love for icy streets, but if it wasn't for the condition of the streets, there wouldn't be anything to vary the monotony of conversation.

People get tired of talking about the weather all the time. It is not at all satisfying to ask every mortal you meet if the weather is cold enough for him, or if he thinks it is going to rain or snow. One even gets tired saying, "nice day, isn't it?" and of hearing the stereotyped reply, "Yes, but I'm afraid it is not going to last long."

Now it's different. With the ice covering many of the hills, and big ridges along the sides of streets and car tracks, people have quit talking so much about the weather, and talk about the ice. Most every place you go you can hear some one relate a thrilling experience he had on an icy hill, or tell about seeing some one have a hairbreadth escape.

One man says he was coming down Court street in his truck when it started to skid at the turn near the court house. The front wheels almost hit the picket fence, when the driver managed to get it under control and went down the hill safely.

Another man started to go up the court house hill and when he got near the court house steps his machine started to skid, and in a few seconds he found himself at the bottom against the curb. Undeterred he made a second and third attempt, only to land in the same place. Finally he gave it up and drove up East Washington street.

Down on the Long avenue hill, a man made three unsuccessful attempts to get up. Each time his car slid more than two hundred feet. The last time he brought up against the curb so hard that one wheel was crushed.

Some of the hills on unpaved streets, such as Oak and Chestnut are in a very dangerous condition. There are skidding episodes every day, and all of these furnish ammunition for conversation on the slippery streets.

On the level streets many near accidents have occurred on account of the ridges. In most places there is still ice along curbs, making it hard to park. In many instances motorists have found themselves up on sidewalks after they had pulled out of ruts.

From the ice conversation often shifts to the wear and tear on chains ,caused by the bare cartways on many of the streets. New cross chains have to be added almost daily on some cars, depending upon the amount of travel. The clank, clank of broken chains against the fenders has become a signal for the expression, "There goes another cross chain." or possibly some stronger remark.

Ask any motorist what he thinks about the condition of the streets, if you want to get a few new words for your vocabulary.

DEMENTED MAN IS SENT BACK HOME

William Featsent of Youngstown, who is apparently demented, was arrested last night by Officers Horner and Dukes and placed in the city jail for investigation. He spent the entire night in prayer and shouting, keeping all the other people in the vicinity awake. This morning he was sent back to Youngstown, where he belongs.

SPEEDER FINED

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Jan. 19—Niagara Falls, a name that conjures up the pleasantest of memories close to the hearts of most of America's housewives and one that brings thrills of anticipation to America's prospective brides, now is beginning to take on another meaning. For the honeymoon city of the United States, where countless thousands have spent the happiest moments of their lives, is now attracting other thousands to view its magnificent winter scenery.

In other years the tourist season at the Falls came to a close soon after Labor Day when the traveling public turned its attention to the resorts in the warmer climes. Now, however, the great beauty of the roaring cataracts, clothed in their winter garbs of ice and snow, seems to have captured the American public. As the icy fingers of winter freeze the tiny mist globules to the shrubbery and trees in the parks flanking the deep gorge, and form giant icicles in the canyon while trickling down to the river's edge, another tourist army begins to arrive.

Winter's Beauties

It bids fair to outnumber the honeymooners and excursionists of the hot summer months. Although the numerous "Lovers' Lanes," and the cool, shady paths on Goat Island now are snow-covered and crystal white in the winter sunshine, there are those who prefer this to the summer beauty.

Then, too, there is the great illumination. On every winter's night, with the temperature hovering around the freezing point, giant searchlights, with a total of 3,000,000,000 candle power, are turned on the plunging waters with their background of scintillating snow and ice. Even the residents of the city, accustomed, as they are to its beauties, turn out in large numbers to witness the spectacle.

Her Hair Fairly SPARKLES Now!

The woman who knows what to do after waving her hair doesn't fear the effect of hot irons. Nor of frequent washings. A few drops of Danderine— on comb or towel— and the hair is soft and lustrous, and behaves beautifully.

A bit of Danderine rubbed lightly into the scalp, is the one sure way to dissolve every particle of dandruff. But a few drops more make a dressing that is simply marvelous. A sheen that rivals brilliantine, and no grease!

Any permanent wave or water wave lasts much longer and looks much nicer when Danderine is used instead of water to "set" the wave.

Philadelphia Pharmacist Recommends Tanalac

Joseph H. Garfield, experienced druggist, was rundown and weak. Now hale and hearty again, enjoys former vigorous health. Gives full credit to Tanlac.

Mr. Garfield owns one of the best known drug stores in Philadelphia, located at 5631 Chester Avenue. His business brings him in touch with all kinds of people and all kinds of medicines. What a man of his training and experience says is worth attention.

"For about two years I suffered greatly from indigestion," said Mr. Garfield, "and was troubled a great deal with gas. What little I could eat caused bloating until my stomach seemed about to burst and the pain was intense. As result of this condition my nerves went all out of fix and sleep was impossible. I just rolled from side to side at night unable to rest. Naturally, I lost weight rapidly and weakened greatly.

"So many people had spoken well of Tanlac that I decided to try it, and by the time the third bottle was finished all the disagreeable symptoms had disappeared, I was eating heartily, digesting normally, sleeping as well as ever, and put on seven pounds' weight. With that experience I have every confidence in recommending Tanlac as a good system builder, for it met every need of my case."

Thousands of citizens in every state of the Union have had experience similar to that of Mr. Garfield. If you're rundown from overwork, worry, or neglect start building your way back to normalcy today. Get a trial bottle of Tanlac from your druggist. It is nature's own remedy made from herbs, roots and barks, according to the famous Tanlac formula. Over 52,000,000 bottles sold.

Permit Granted For Remodeling

Building Permit Neil Williams has granted sanction to H. G. Mitchell, supervising contractor, to remodel the building at 135 East Washington street, occupied at present by Sam Klafter. The remodeling will cost about $25,000.

According to the permit taken out today new store fronts will be erected. There will be steel masonry and a heating system installed. The permit also provides for electrical and carpenter work.

The building is three stories high and is owned by Samuel Foltz.

Ashing Hills On State Highways

Traffic Conditions Are Worst On Improved Roads Than For Years

State highway department has ordered that all hills on the state improved roads be ashed in order to make it possible for autos to climb and descend the hills in safety.

The snow yesterday afternoon if it had stayed that way would have improved the condition of the icy roads, but it only froze on the bare spots and then when the snow turned to rain it washed off the snow, leaving only ice which, with the rain constantly falling and the water running, made the surface of the road like a soap covered dance floor.

This morning the condition continued but the more rain that fell the more the ice was melted and by this evening those places in which the ice was thinner should not be bad traveling but in other places, especially in the northern parts of the district it will take several hours of the rainfall to melt away the ice, yet even there the ice should become more rotten so that chains can get a grip.

But if the forecast for colder weather comes true and this rain freezes into a coat of ice, beware! It would be much better if it does become colder that the rain turn to snow for a small blanket of snow over the ice would relieve the terrible slippery conditions which we have at present.

Four Men Held As Bus Robbers In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 19.—Four men were held here today for Washington, Pa., authorities as suspects in the holdup of the White Star bus near Morganza, Pa., late Sunday, in which $30 was taken from the driver and passengers.

The men gave their names as George Stewart, 19, Howard Stewart, 23, both of Cleveland, John Hajnos, 19 and Andrew Bolash, 18, the latter two from Beadling, Pa.

Police said they found guns, masks and ammunition on the men.

Stewart Unable To Attend First Cabinet Meeting

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 19.—James L. Stewart, Pittsburgh, the new highway commissioner, was the only member of the Fisher official family unable to attend the initial cabinet meeting today. Illness prevented Stewart from coming to Harrisburg.

Rev. S. L. Maxwell Makes Address At Kiwanis Club

Kiwanis Club of New Castle, at their weekly luncheon held in the Y. M. C. A. today, were addressed by the Rev. S. L. Maxwell, pastor of the Epworth Methodist Episcopal church of New Castle.

Rev. Maxwell spoke on the subject of the progress of denominations among the churches. He said that the spirit of unity which was in Christ Jesus is possessing the church more than ever. Different members get together and discuss questions of life and doctrine and thus they learn the best points in each denomination and the ultimate Christian church will finally incorporate the strong and good points of each denomination.

Rev. Maxwell said that it was the spirit of unity and fellowship of the church that makes such organizations as the Kiwanis possible and that the fellowship of such clubs reacts upon the church and promotes fellowship there.

Rev. William L. Schramm of the Butler Lutheran church was on the program for today, but was unable to be present and the club was very fortunate to secure Rev. Maxwell to address the meeting.

Kellogg Explains His Position On Arbitration Issue

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The American government has not committed itself to settlement of the Mexican controversy by arbitration, Secretary of State Kellogg announced this afternoon.

Secretary Kellogg said his statement, issued last night, had been "misinterpreted" by newspapers. He had not intended, he said, to express approbation of the Robinson resolution, which declares it to be the sense of the Senate that the controversy should be settled by arbitration. Nor had he intended to endorse the principle of arbitration as applied to the land law dispute.

Dr. Haas Still Holds His Place

Conflict Develops Over Appointment Of Superintendent Of Public Instruction

GOVERNOR HOLDS APPOINTMENT BACK

By ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 19.—Spokesmen for the Fisher administration were hopeful today that the delicate situation created by the appointment of Dr. A. H. Keith of Indiana as superintendent of public instruction will be settled without embarrassment.

When Gov. Fisher sent the cabinet list to senate for confirmation shortly before both houses of the legislature adjourned until next Monday, the name of Keith was omitted, although the Indiana man has been publicly announced as the appointee.

Reason for Action.

The reason for this, administration leaders admitted, was the fact that it was realized at the last minute that the commission of Dr. Francis B. Haas, Pinchot appointee, provides that he shall hold office until the end of the present senate session.

Inquiry at Gov. Fisher's office today brought the information that in all probability no action toward the removal of Dr. Haas would be taken for a few days and possibly not until next Monday when the senate reconvenes.

Friends of Dr. Haas said that in view of his commission he cannot be removed before it expires, notwithstanding any action of the senate. They pointed to article VI, section IV of the constitution which says that "appointed officers, other than judges of the courts of record and the superintendent of public instruction, may be removed at the pleasure of the power by which they shall have been appointed."

Term is Fixed.

When Dr. Keith was selected, it was apparently the impression of the administration that Dr. Haas would retire with the other members of the Pinchot cabinet, but through the fact that he is a constitutional officer, it developed that his status is somewhat different because of the constitutional provision relating to his office.

The constitution fixes the term of office of the superintendent of public instruction at four years with the provision that his appointment be confirmed by the senate. Dr. Haas' was a recess appointment and his commission was made out so that he would serve until the end of the present senate.

Notwithstanding the fact that his appointment was not for a full term the administration is desirous of learning exactly what can happen before sending Dr. Keith's name to the senate and it likewise is preparing for eventualities.

Dr. Haas can relieve the tense situation by resigning, thus paving the way for Keith's appointment, but thus far he has given no indication of doing so. Rumors afloat on Capitol Hill were to the effect that he intends to quit. His only answer to this was that he does not wish to embarrass the administration. However, he was evasive on the resignation story.

Start Inter-City Legion Campaign

New Castle And Ellwood In Competitive Drive For New Members

CONTEST TO CLOSE FIRST OF MARCH

Membership drive of Perry S. Gaston Post, No. 343, American Legion, in progress for the past few weeks, came to an official close this week and was a success in that the membership of the organization has been increased to a considerable extent.

Announcement of the prize-winners in the campaign, which was conducted with Ivor Davis as general chairman, will be made tomorrow, when the compilation of the statistics of the drive will have settled the matter of winners.

With the closing of the local campaign Perry S. Gaston Post has now entered into an inter-city campaign with J. Wilbur Randolph Post of Ellwood City, having accepted the challenge of the latter organization for a contest to start January 15 and end March 1.

The inter-city campaign is being conducted on the basis of two for one, or in other words, Perry S. Gaston Post must secure two new members for every one that Randolph Post secures, in order to win.

At the close of this compaign the loser is to banquet the winner.

As in the local drive, Ivor Davis is again general chairman of the inter-city drive as far as New Castle is concerned, and is hopeful of getting such action out of the membership of the local post that Randolph Post will find it necessary to feed the local boys.

Committee Asks For An Improved Passenger Service

GROVE CITY, Pa., Jan. 19.—A committee of the Grove City Commercial club interviewed E. D. Comstock, passenger agent of the Bessemer & Lake Erie Railroad company at his office in Pittsburgh Tuesday asking that the passenger service of the road out of here be improved.

E. B. Harshaw is chairman of the committee which has as its members L. H. McKay, H. M. Carruthers and Harry Chambers.

Complaint of the present service was formally placed before the road's passenger agent. It is said that a service of the same number of trains as that in force prior to the month of September last when two trains were discontinued will be asked. Under the present schedule no train to Pittsburgh is available after morning until late in the evening. As the road is the only one serving Grove City there is no possible relief except through the agency of the Bessemer.

Three Candidates File Petitions For State Senate Post

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 19. — With three nominating petitions filed for the state senate seat of the late Marvin E. Griswold, of Erie, the state election bureau today refrained from certifying the names pending the possibility that other petitions may be filed.

Officials of the bureau said that the petitions would be certified in a day or two, the ballots printed and sent to Erie for the special election to be held there February 1.

The following candidates have filed petitions for the Forty-ninth District election: Samuel Y. Rossiter, holding both Republican and Democratic endorsement; Laverne H. Raymond, Independent, and Miles B. Kitts, Peoples Party.

New Trials Asked In Several Cases Tried At Court

Reuben J. Gackenbach not Satisfied To Pay James Dime $3500 For Injuries

Application for a new trial and for judgment notwithstanding the verdict has been made by the defense in the case of James Dime against Reuben J. Gackenbach. This is a case in which the jury awarded Dime $3,500 damages for injuries sustained when he was struck by an automobile driven by Gackenbach on Croton avenue.

In the case of A. C. Miles against the Hermes-Grover Dairy company in which Miles was awarded a verdict for damages to his automobile, struck by a truck of the defendant company, judgment for defendant notwithstanding the verdict was made by the defense.

Motion for a new trial was made by the City of New Castle in a case in which John A. Byers was awarded $400 damages to property, by reason of the grading of Glass street.

In the case of Elenterio Lattavo against the Wheeling, Ohio and Virginia Fire Insurance companies, the defense has made motions for new trials. The verdicts for plaintiff amounted to about $1,900. This was the second trial of the case. At the first trial the verdicts were slightly less than at the second.

Houk Is Winner In Speed Contest

In one of the athletic contests held in the Y. M. C. A., among the different classes under Walter Kirker, physical director, the Junior B class held a running meet for the purpose of finding what boys could make the fastest time running around the track once. In the first try Houk and Shaffer were tied for first place, with nine and three-tenths seconds as their time. To decide the winner the boys ran around the track twice, Houk coming in first with 20 seconds to his credit.

The time made by the rest of the boys was: Brown, 11 seconds; Travers, nine and four-fifths seconds; Parlett, nine and one-half; Craig, 10 1-2; Allen, 10 1-2; Caven, nine and nine-tenths; Smith, 10 1-2; Ward, nine and nine-tenths; Emery, 10; Reynolds, 10; Porte, 10; Hodge, 10 3-10, and Deep, 10.

Return Verdict Against Doyno

Jury Says Antonio Doyno Must Pay Assessment On Bank Stock

CASE IS TRIED IN LOCAL COURT

A verdict for the full amount of the claim with interest from July 11, 1926, was returned late Tuesday afternoon by the jury in the case of Peter G. Cameron, commissioner of banking in Pennsylvania, against Antonio Doyno of Ohio. The case was tried before Judge J. Frank Graff of Armstrong county, who is assisting Judge R. L. Hildebrand this week and Attorney R. L. Wallace acted for Peter G. Cameron, prosecutor.

The case is that in which the banking commissioner sought to collect $2,800, the 40 per cent assessment against the 140 shares of the defunct First State bank, alleged to have been owned by Antonio Doyno, brother of Victor Doyno, the president of the defunct bank. It represents the largest claim against any individual in the matter of the assesment made against stockholders of the defunct bank for the benefit of the creditors and depositors. It is but one of numerous such suits that have been brought against stockholders of the bank.

Antonio Doyno claimed that the stock was issued as collateral on a loan made by him to his brother, Victor Doyno, in 1922 and that the stock had been reassigned to Victor Doyno when the loan was repaid. The jury evidently thought otherwise in view of the verdict returned in favor of the banking commissioner.

Rheumatism can't be rubbed away

Are you one of those unfortunates who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

'I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried most everything. Went to Hot Springs and finally I decided to try S. S. S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I also had a breaking out on my hands for years that nothing would heal, but now this has disappeared, and I am sure that it was S. S. S. which removed the cause. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S. S. S. is the best." Carl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S. S. S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Legislature Has Hundred Bills

Restriction Of Sale Of Firearms One Of Leading Topics For Session

LEGISLATURE WILL RECONVENE MONDAY

By WILLIAM B. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 19.—With both houses of the legislature adjourned until next Monday night, the capital was almost deserted today after being host for a day to the largest crowd that ever attended an inauguration here.

When the senate and house reconvene the report of the senate slate committee is expected to be made public. The house patronage list was complete and ready for announcement yesterday, but out of deference to the senate it was withheld.

The session gave all evidence at this early stage of being practically devoid of important legislation such as generally marks a meeting of the general assembly, but a flood of minor bills, many of them purely local, will be introduced.

Over 100 Bills In.

Already more than a hundred bills have been introduced in the house and the senate has has almost as many. Many legislators made known their intention of introducing bills for the prevention of crime predominated among those already introduced. Other bills on these subjects were certain to appear, it was said.

The Philadelphia delegation is interested in measures for restricting the sale of firearms and increasing penalties for crimes where pistols or revolvers are used. Senator Samuel W. Salus has introduced bills on these subjects.

Another bill that attracted its share of attention here was introduced by Senator Albert McDade of Delaware county. His bill would authorize the appropriation of $750,000 for the construction of a bridge over the Delaware river from League Island to Red Bank, N. J.

Pittsburgh Police Find Bombs Thrown Into Monongahela

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 19.—Two dozen bombs were discovered today by police here when they examined the contents of two handbags dropped in the Monongahela river last night by two men whom they had under suspicion.

River watchmen who saw the bags, pulled them from the river and turned them over to police. The bombs were similar to hand grenades, and are to be analyzed by the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

Gym Exhibition Will Be Repeated

Gymnasium exhibition given by the girls of the Benjamin Franklin Junior high school last Thursday, January 13, was so much appreciated that it has been decided to repeat it for the public on next Monday, January 24, in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock.

There have been so many requests that the public be given an opportunity to see this splendid exhibition that Miss Vera Rummel has decided to have the girls repeat it.

The exhibition consists of folk and aesthetic dances with drills. The girls, 200 in number, are all dressed in pretty costumes and is one of the most beautiful performances that has been seen for some time.

A serious economic problem would soon exist if every person could qualify for a white-collar job.

Empress Charlotte Dies At Brussels

(International News Service)

BRUSSELS, Jan. 19.—Empress Charlotte, widow of Maximilian, for a brief time emperor of Mexico, died at her chateau on the outskirts of Brussels at seven o'clock this morning. Pneumonia was the immediate cause of death.

King Albert and Queen Elizabeth arrived at the chateau bouchount soon after Charlotte had expired.

The former empress left a fortune of approximately $3,000,000 comprising chiefly property in Austria. This will be diveded among six heirs. These include, King Albert of Belgium, Princess Josephine, wife of Prince Charles (Hohenzollern.) Dr. Vendome, Princess Hermine, wife of the ex-kaiser, who is a daughter of the late Princess Louise, Princess Stephanie, and Princess Clementine, widow of Prince Napoleon.

The life of Princess Marie Charlotte Amelia Auguste Victoria of Belgium, widow of Maximilian of Austria and "Empress of Mexico", runs more like some fantastic tale of fiction than the life of a royal personage.

Princess Charlotte, or "Poor Carlotta" as her solicitous countryfolk termed her, lived until her death as a lady of the Victorian era —isolated for the last fifty years in a country chateau. Her mind failed while she was in the prime of life and it was then that her contact with the moving world ended.

Born and bred a Coburg, Princess Charlotte, the daughter of old King Leopold of Belgium, was a partner in a brilliant love match with Maximillian, younger brother of the Emperor Franz Josef of Austria.

Maximillian was chosen by Napoleon III to set sail across the sea and rule the far-off and none too cordial Mexico.

The expedition met with difficulties. Maximillian took his seat on the unsteady throne but soon found his venture in financial straits and the French troops that had been sent to support him were withdrawn leaving Maximillian the solitary leader of an invisible and alien empire.

Carlotta's ambition reasserted itself. Bestowing upon her husband a kiss of encouragement she set sail for Europe. Her mission was to the Pope at Rome for support to bolster up the failing enterprise. Rebuffed, she returned to Paris, and as she drove out of the streets of Rome she drove out of the world of reality, for it was then that her mind failed her, perhaps a blessing for it spared her the final blow of learning of the execution of her beloved Maximillian, and the sound of the volley which pitched Maximillian into the dust never reached Carlotta's ears.

For 50 years the empress waited for her emperor to return.

Eighty Handed Subpoenas For Election Fraud

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 19.—More than 80 residents of an election district here were subpoenaed by county detectives today for appearance Thursday before the special grand jury investigating alleged frauds in Allegheny county during the recent general election.

District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner refused to reveal the location of the district effected. The witnesses are from a district which has already been investigated during the probe, he intimated.

Ask Congress To Appropriate Huge Sum For Deficits

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. — Congress was asked today to appropriate $183,848,084.01 to meet governmental deficits during the current year, in the first deficiency bill, which was reported to the house today by its aprropriations committee.

The measure carries $175,000,000 for future refunds of taxes illegally collected and to cover pending claims.

Defending this item, Internal Revenue Bureau officials told the committee that more than $3,300,000,000 additional taxes have been collected through audits in the last decade, while $741,000,000 has been refunded as a result.

Verdicts Returned For Plaintiffs In Two Court Cases

In the case of Rosario Appugliese against Joe Conti, in which he asks damages for injuries sustained when beaten over the head by Conti with an iron bar, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $300.

Verdict in favor of Anna Nocera against Peter G. Cameron, Secretary of Banking, for $1015.25 was returned, the verdict to be paid out of the assets of the First State Bank. This was a case in which Mrs. Nocera sued for the amount of some Italian bonds left with the bank for safe keeping.

Home Killed Meat Business Is Large

Report To Health Department Gives Idea Of Size Of Business

There are few people in this district who realize the importance of the meat industry as conducted within the borders of Lawrence county and the vast amount of beef, pork, lamb and veal that is supplied to this city through the medium of the four slaughter houses adjacent to the city in addition to the great amount that is sold here by the various packing houses.

Some idea of the amount of such meat products produced here is gained by a statement made by F. J. Waddington of East Brook, who conducts one of the four slaughter houses and does a large business.

In the report made by Mr. Waddington to the health authorities of this city he states that in the month of December, 1926, there were slaughtered and dressed for consumption in the local meat markets and homes at his place of business 163 head of cattle, 40 hogs, 68 lambs and 47 calves.

When it is considered that this is probably about one-third of the cattle, hogs, lambs and calves prepared for local consumption in the four slaughter houses of the county, it is readily seen that this is a very considerable industry in itself and requires constant supervision by health authorities to insure the public of good meat.

All are raw material as freshmen, and some never become anything more than rah-rah material.

Women In Congress United For Larger Navy, At Least

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—American women are for plenty of military preparedness, if their vote in congress represents them accurately.

When the question of money to build three new cruisers come up in the lower house of the national legislature recently, every single one of the three congresswomen favored the appropriation.

It's significant that they answered the roll call as women, not as partisans. Congresswoman Florence P. Kahn of California and Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts are Republicans. Congresswoman Mary T. Norton of New Jersey is a Democrat.

They didn't vote as a feminist bloc, either. They hadn't talked the cruiser question over in advance among themselves. None knew how the other two were going to vote until they voted.

They were on the losing side but perhaps that made the contrast all the more noticeable. The congressmen proved to be a trifle more than 50 per cent little navy-ites. The congresswomen's score was 100 per cent big navy-ite.

Congresswoman Kahn hit the preparedness nail another crack on the head a few days later in a speech she made in support of a first-first army.

She didn't argue for such a big military establishment, but she did ask for a good one. She wanted the regular army kept up to 125,000 men, as provided in 1920, instead of permitting it to slump to about 113,000, as at present. With this, a sure-enough national guard, reserves and citizens' training camps, she said she'd be satisfied.

"But I'm opposed to wooden soldiers and blueprint ships," she added.

"The trouble is," observed Congresswoman Kahn, "that too many people believe universal peace is just around the corner.

"Why, there's universal peace talk in the Old Testament!"

Congresswoman Kahn makes it clear that she's no militarist but she isn't convinced that war is ended and wants at least a nucleus of a force to meet it half way in case it pops on the country suddenly.

Congresswoman Kahn isn't alone in the house of representatives in the opinion that the army and navy are falling into a state of serious dilapidation, but perhaps it's a little odd that the campaign for rehabilitation should be launched by a women, backed by the entire feminine delegation in congress.

The woman's congressional bloc is also predominantly wet, another respect in which it differs from what most folk probably would have expected from a group of the most recently enfranchised sex, in the house of respresentatives. Congresswoman Kahn has even been suggested as the house's wet leader. It isn't even certain that she won't accept the post in the next congress.

Women are supposed to be pacifism's chief strength, prohibition's sheet anchor. Can it be that they're for Mars and Bacchus?

By no means, says Congresswoman Kahn—military strength is peace insurance; temperance means sensible regulation, not prohibition—women are for peace, not pacifism; for moderation, not fanaticism.

This is the way, at least, that Congresswoman Kahn puts it.

Congresswomen Kahn, Rogers and Norton are the only congresswomen who, thus far, have been re-elected.

Hitherto they have been regarded as political accidents, which it was considered most unlikely could be repeated. Repetition takes them out of the class of accidents. They're here now on their merits.

They're recognized, too, as three of the most useful members of the house of representatives.

SHERIFF GETS SECOND THREAT FOR KEEPING BLACKHANDERS JAILED

WELLSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 19.—Sheriff Robert M. Lowe of Brook county yesterday affirmed reports to the effect that he had received two more death threats, one a letter and the other a phone call. The two latest warnings coming on the heels of four previous threats again threatens his life if he continues to hold the 13 alleged members of the Blackhand in jail or should continue to investigate their activities.

All of the 13 arrests were made in connection with the Nick Pelligrina murder in Steubenville a week ago and the Dr. Deigo Delfino murder near Follansbee six weeks ago. The latest letter the sheriff has received reads: "Despite previous warnings you have continued in your activities which must cease or bear the consequences." The letter bore a Steubenville postmark.

It is a wise woman who asks for what she can't have so she can compromise on what she wants.

Boston To Stage Sportsman's Show

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Jan 19—The Massachusetts Fish and Game Protective Association is sponsoring a gigantic sportsmen's show and exhibition which will be held in the spacious Mechanics building, January 29th.

This unique show will not only interest sportsmen of Boston and vicinity but will embrace all New England, Canada and distant parts of the United States in its exhibits. All the New England states will install elaborate exhibits, and the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railway companies and the Canadian Park Service will participate in making it the greatest exhibition of nature ever held in this section.

The U. S. Government will participate through the Bureau of Biological Survey, the U. S. Forest Service and the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries.

The education aspects of the show will be emphasized rather than the commercial features. All selling of goods will be barred. There will be no exhibits of sporting goods by dealers but manufacturers will show their wares.

Hundreds of exhibits of live specimens of wild animals, birds and fish in attractive surroundings will be shown. Many beautiful exhibits of taxidermy will be displayed. The building itself will be elaborately decorated with the interior appropriately garbed in evergreen, significant of the woods.

A fund of $35,000 for the success of the show was pledged before initial steps for the show were taken.

A Child Doesn't Laugh and Play if Constipated

Look, Mother! Is tongue coated, breath feverish and stomach sour?

"California Fig Syrup" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup", then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup", which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company".

Ford Blames Money Men For War Cloud

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 19.—"If we could put in jail some of those seeking to embroil this country in war with our neighbors the whole difficulty would be solved very quickly," said Henry Ford here yesterday. "The money powers want war. There is money in it for them."

These remarks, which were taken to refer to the Mexican-Nicaraguan situation, were part of an interview in which the motor manufacturer said he looked for a decrease this year from the motor production totals of 1926.

Ford expressed his confidence in President Coolidge's ability to handle the present situation, saying "he refuses to be stampeded by politicians seeking to lure him from his old-fashioned ideas of rugged honesty and simplicity."

Giant Council To Meet Tonight

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19.—Possibly the largest gathering of alumni of any university or college ever held in Philadelphia will take place here tonight when a "giant council" of the graduates of Temple University will meet in the Academy of Music to listen to the plans for extension of the school.

Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio will be the principal speaker. More than 3,000 alumni from all parts of the country are expected to attend the meeting.

Dr. Wallace Home From Western Trip

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 19.—President W. Charles Wallace of Westminster College, is back at his office after attending the conference of the Board of Education of the United Presbyterian church at Chicago, Ill., last week. While in the mid-west metropolis, Dr. Wallace attended the thirteenth annual convention of American Colleges. About 250 college and university presidents attended this conference.

Returning, Dr. Wallace stopped at Pittsburgh to attend a Boy Scout conference which included the third region of the Boy Scouts of America. The third region of the Boy Scouts includes the territory of Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, New Jersey and the District of Columbia.

The college president will be absent from his office, Thursday, January 20. He will attend a Tri-State Rotary meeting at Altoona, Pa., to be held in honor of the president of Rotary International, Harry H. Rogers of San Antonio, Texas.

YORK, Pa., Jan. 19.—Police, plumbing inspectors and engineers were busy digging out a serious ditch cave-in to rescue a man believed buried in the dirt. After awhile Robert Shaffer the supposed imprisoned man, sauntered to the edge of the ditch and asked them what they were doing.

And, above everything else, Lifebuoy offers real measures of protection against germ diseases. Its antiseptic lather removes germs, as well as dirt.

An agreeable hygienic scent you'll learn to love

Lifebuoy is so different from other toilet and bath soaps that even its scent is different.

Not a perfume, but a clean, pleasantly hygienic scent which proves Lifebuoy gives greater protection. Even before you've finished your first cake, you'll learn to love this cleanest of all soap scents, which quickly evaporates after rinsing.

Without its antiseptic, Lifebuoy would still be a wonderful toilet soap—but it wouldn't give you the same measure of protection.

Like millions of others, once you form the Lifebuoy habit, you'll wonder how any other soap ever satisfied you.

Safer—yet costs no more

You wash and bathe with some soap anyway. So why not use Lifebuoy, which costs no more—probably less—than the soap you are now using? The protection it gives you is actually free.

You can get Lifebuoy wherever soap is sold. You will know it by the red box and the cake—orange-red, the color of its pure palm-fruit oils.

Hostile Senate Awaits Smith

Poll Taken Today Reveals 54 To 37 Vote For Denying Oath Of Office

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. — The first of the so-called 1926 slush fund cases reached the floor of the senate today with Senator-designate Frank L. Smith (R) of Illinois, ready to demand a sensational seat on the appointment given him by Governor Len Small.

A thoroughly hostile senate awaited Smith's appearance with the expressed intention of denying him his oath of office first and of later sending him back to Illinois a private citizen.

A poll taken by International News Service showed at least 52 Senators opposed to giving Smith the oath of office. Early indications, based on the poll, were that the vote against Smith—if taken today—would be approximately 54 to 37, with four senators absent.

Senator Reed Assures Woods Of Confirmation

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Despite the rejection of his nomination by the Interstate Commerce Committee, Cyrus E. Woods of Pennsylvania will be confirmed by the Senate as Interstate Commerce Commissioner, Senator Reed, Republican, of Pennsylvania, told President Coolidge today.

Reed has been counting noses and expects a vote on Woods not later than Friday.

Boy Scout News

New Troop.

The new American Legion troop met last night under the direction of its scoutmaster, Edwin Hoye, for their sixth meeting. The committeemen of the troop are Earl Sowers, Addison Caruthers, Rogner Benson, Wilbur White and Wilbert Hughes.

The following boys have passed tenderfoot tests: Charles Schweinsberg, Henry Lawton, Edward Elmore, Richard Francis, Carl Lutz, Elmer Frye, Lawrence McWilliams, John Sanford, Tommy Wilson and Clyde McCready.

Fifteen members of this troop were present and one new member was taken in. Games were enjoyed, also a knot tying contest was held. Scoutmaster Hoye gave a short talk on first aid.

Scout Leaders Club.

The regular meeting of the Scout Leaders club was held at he Carnegie auditorium January 17 at 7:30 in the evening.

Earl Herbert, scoutmaster of the Wampum troop gave an interesting talk on his method of opening his scout meetings. Mr. Davis added a few remarks on the essentials which should always be used in opening and closing a meeting.

J. Lee Calahan, scout executive, told about the regional meeting and outlined the program for the Anniversary Week, to extend from February 6 to February 13. Mr. Calahan urged all the troops to prepare for this week.

A committee was appointed by the president of the club, Ralph F. Davis, to arrange for a troop contest. Mr. Grittie, J. Gwin and Sidney Smith were on the committee which is to meet at 5:30 o'clock January 24 at scout headquarters.

A discussion of the "Leaders Training Course" was taken up and Guy Raney was appointed Senior Patrol Leader with Earl Gerbert as leader of the Pine Tree Patrol and Sidney Smith assistant. Bun West, leader of the Flying Dutchman, with Tony Colaluca as assistant; Kenneth Cotton, leader of the Panther with Melvin Gray as assistant. Bernard Hook, leader of the Ferret Patrol and Edwin Hoye as assistant. This course is to start February 14 and will last eight weeks with one hundred trained leaders as the aim.

The remainder of the evening was taken up with rope games under the leadership of Executive Calahan.

Report Quakes Occur In Mexico

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 19. — A severe earthquake accompanied by pronounced subterranean rumblings and signs of volcanic activity was reported today from Colima.

The shock lasted forty minutes causing considerable property damage and panic among the inhabitants.

The tremors were so severe that they rang the chimes in the Cathedral, causing terror stricken people to prostrate themselves in the streets and implore divine protection.

A Man Of Rare Professional Attainment

The originator of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was the late Ray V. Pierce, M. D. At first he practiced medicine in Western Pennsylvania and his unusual ability and success were soon recognised there, then he moved to Buffalo, N. Y., and established the World's Dispensary where his famous home remedies have ever since been made.

Each succeeding year the sale of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been greatly increased. Evidently people appreciate the fact that it increases the appetite, stimulates the digestion, helps to enrich the blood, clears the skin of eruptions and blemishes, and makes both men and women feel as they did when they were young. It contains no harmful ingredient.

Ask your nearest druggist for Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10 cents for a trial package of tablets to Dr. Pierce's Clinic, in Buffalo, N. Y.

Leaves Hair Twice as Beautiful

The simple hair styles of to-day make beautiful hair a necessity.

Luckily, beautiful hair is now easily obtained. It is simply a matter of shampooing.

Proper shampooing makes the hair soft and silky. It brings out all the real life and lustre, all the natural wave and color, and leaves it fresh looking, glossy and bright.

While your hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why discriminating women, everywhere, now use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

It leaves the hair soft and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

Pittsburgh Coal Company Announces Wage Reduction

Over 5,000 Employes Of Pittsburgh Coal Company Are Affected

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 19.—Reductions in wages effecting more than 5,000 employes of the Pittsburgh Coal company were announced by company officials here today. The cut is effective Jan. 21, the announcement said.

Officials declared that employes have been informed of the reduction in a statement which pointed out that "owing to a fall in the market price of coal it is necessary to reduce miners' wages."

"On October 26, 1926, due to higher prices of coal, it was possible for the company to increase wages," the statement read. "An announcement was made at that time that when prices dropped, wages would be adjusted accordingly."

The new scale carries a reduction of 20 per cent on tonnage rates and a $6 day basis wage for day workers.

Have Banquet At Junior High Shops

Shop men and related subject instructors of the Benjamin Franklin high school gave a banquet at the Model Apartment of the school at 5:30 last night at which Dr. Clyde C. Green, superintendent of schools, and Frank L. Burton, principal, of the Junior high school, were the honored guests.

The banquet was served by six girls of the home economics department and they are to be highly commended for the way the dinner was conducted.

The chief purpose of the meeting after the banquet was a get-together to discuss industrial and vocational training in the school. The program consisted chiefly of questions and answers.

Wampum Men Have Community Dinner

Dr. C. B. Wingerd Of This City Makes Principal Address At Meeting Tuesday Evening

A community dinner sponsored by the Men's Bible class and Young Men's Bible class of the Wampum Presbyterian church was an enjoyable event in the Wampum Presbyterian church Tuesday evening.

Dinner was served at 6:30 at attractively appointed tables in the dining room with covers arranged for eighty men by the Boheman Bible class.

David M. Marshall was toastmaster. Talks were given by Rev. W. J. Engle, pastor of the Bessemer Presbyterian church and George Lyon of this city.

Greetings were brought from the Wampum M. E. Bible school by George Hildebrand; from the Wampum Christian Bible school by Paul Coulter, and from the Wampum Presbyterian school by D. W. Stewart, teacher of the Men's Bible class and J. E. Carpenter, teacher of the Young Men's class of the Presbyterian school. Prof. Everett, principal of the Wampum high school also gave a pleasing talk.

The principal address of the evening was given by Dr. C. B. Wingerd, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of this city. Dr. Wingerd's talk was well received.

Music by the orchestra under the leadership of Carl Hennon was an especial pleasing feature of the evening.

The event was one of the most enjoyable held in the community for some time and was thoroughly enjoyed by all who were present.

Miss Boyce Is Heard In Fine Address Here

Birthday Of Parent And Teachers' Association Event Of Next Month

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 19—Twenty sturdy well-behaved youngsters from the local kindergarten were guests of honor at the monthly meeting of the Parents and Teachers association, Tuesday, to hear Miss Ella Ruth Boyce of Pittsburgh speak on the benefits of kindergarten work.

The meeting took place in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church of this city and was enjoyed by a fair sized crowd.

Miss Ella Ruth Boyce, head of the kindergarten work in Pittsburgh gave an enthusiastic talk on the value of this type of work for the child up to six years of age.

Some of the important points stressed by Miss Boyce were: That the complete work to be accomplished by the kindergarten cannot be done until that work becomes part of the public schools, as many parents cannot send their children to a private institution. The pro-school period in a child's life is of tremendous importance, not that they can be instructed, but they can receive education suitable for their young minds. The education of a child of under six years of age, has become a matter of concern to the greatest university minds in the country. Nerve specialists claim that many adult cases brought to their attention were results of nerve inceptions back in the early childhood. A baby tantrum, regarded at the time as something to be outgrown, becomes in many cases a serious nerve condition at the age of maturity. At little child under six years is in a different period and needs understanding and special study that the average mother is too busy to give. The experienced kindergarten teacher has the advantage of a double basis, that of knowing what the child is like, and knowing what the world is like.

Miss Boyce was introduced by the Superintendent of the local schools, Ray Smith, who sketched the origin of the local work since the time of its inception during Chautauqua week when a number of mothers talked with him, got a petition signed, and finally raised enough money to start the kindergarten as a private institution with the board of education coming half way by furnishing a room. A very capable teacher, Miss Wilson, has been working marvels with her kiddies, as last night's performance testified.

Preceding the main address was a little program by the children. Grouped about the piano with Miss Wilson playing the accompaniments they sang lustily Tick-Tock, Snow Man Tall and Post Man. They then demonstrated one of their games called "Wee Willie Winkle" and enjoyed themselves hugely. A display of their handicraft occupied a prominent place and was commented upon favorably.

Considering that Miss Wilson was only given a week's notice to prepare the display, she is to be complimented on the variety of ornaments which were admired by the members of the Parents and Teachers association.

Mrs. A. F. G. Paetzel, president, conducted the meeting.

Musical numbers were given by the High School Orchestra, led by Prof. O. E. Bartel.

At the conclusion of the program a business meeting was conducted at which time it was announced that next month would be the birthday anniversary of the association and that an effort would be made to send a sum of money in to headquarters.

Rev. C. W. Macgeorge gave a brief talk on the speaker for next month, Prof. Beeler, head of the Economics department of Grove City College, and teachers of the local schools are especially urged to attend.

Hoover Case To Come Before Council Members

Police Committee's Hands Tied As Hoover Was a Special Officer

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 19.—When many local citizens, several city officials and the members of the police committee assembled last night in the city building to have a hearing of the case of Officer Hoover, who it was reported, was suspended by Burgess Evans, it was discovered that Officer Hoover had been placed on as a special officer by Burgess Evans, and had not been employed by the borough council. Therefore the police committee of the borough council was powerless to act on the matter.

The case is to be brought up before the next meeting of council on February 3, it is reported. Officer Hoover wishes a public hearing and promises some interesting testimony, he says.

One other officer is confined to his home with illness, making the force short two men. Officer Hayes who lives in New Castle, has been ill for some time.

Services At The Lutheran Church Well Attended

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 19.—A week of evangelistic services is being conducted at the Trinity Lutheran church of this city and many noted pastors from out-of-town will be heard and have been enjoyed.

Considering the icy condition of the streets, the attendance at these services has been very good. Last evening Rev. J. F. Bermon of Trinity Lutheran church of New Brighton, spoke on the subject "Why Should I be a Member of the Christian Church?" After stating what the Christian church is, Rev. Bermon said: "I should be a member of the Christian church because there is no salvation outside the Christian church because true happiness is found only in the church; because there alone do I find true fellowship; because there I can render the highest and best service."

This evening Rev. R. W. Doty of Grace Lutheran church, Rochester, will speak on the subject "The Christian's Rewards". On Thursday evening Rev. A. M. Stump of New Castle will speak on spiritual success. On Friday evening the pastor will speak.

Mrs. Johnston Is Hostess To Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 19.—Members of the Dinner-Bridge club spent a delightful evening as guests of Mrs. W. R. Johnston at her home on Fountain avenue Thursday.

Following a delicious dinner, with dainty decorations in keeping with the season, the members played a series of bridge games, the high score favor being awarded to Mrs. Harry Parthemore, who has invited the members to be her guests in two weeks.

Club members are Mesdames W. G. Thorpe, William Bayers, H. D. Patterson, W. R. Johnston, H. E. Parthemore, Ben Gardner, Carl Davidson and J. J. Dunn.

Hazel Dell Union Plans For Dinner

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 19.—Many members of the Hazel Dell W. C. T. U. met last evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Cole on the New Castle road for the purpose of planning for the Frances Willard memorial luncheon which will take place in the Bell Memorial church. The members of the Ellwood union will be entertained at this time.

Mrs. C. W. Boggs read an address given by Mrs. Ella George at a recent convention. The meeting closed with the serving of refreshments by Mrs. Cole.

They're Enjoying a Happy Hour But Blunt Scissors Would Be Safer

Bob and Bess are having a wonderful time. They look perfectly safe and mother is glad the children are so contented. But she forgets that youngsters are restless and are liable to injure themselves if permitted to handle sharp instruments. Bobby is likely to want a cookie, jump up, run with the scissors still in his hand, slip on the polished floor and fall upon the shears. Blunt scissors are safer, cautions C. B. Auel, past president of the National Safety Council, which is trying to prevent accidents in homes and especially among children.

Local Lodge Has Installation

Large Class Of Candidates Installed In Protective Home Circle

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 19.—Before a large number of members the P. H. Webster; vice president, Mrs. Pearl Dougherty; chaplain, Miss Marian Dunbar; guard, Mrs. Mary Maloney; guide, Mrs. Mary Hudspath; companion, Miss Virginia Bellora; sentinel, Earl Schantz; watcher, Mrs. Pearl Schantz; secretary, Mrs. Anna Jones; treasurer, Mrs. Bert Anderson; pianist, Mrs. Irene Faurey, and acocuntant, P. B. Forsythe.

At this time a large class of candidates was initiated into the lodge. The next meeting will take place February 1 in the Sons of Columbus hall.

Miss Turner Is Hostess To Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 19.—Miss Mary Elizabeth Turner afforded the members of the Modern Bridge club a pleasant evening at her home on the Pittsburgh Circle last evening when she entertained one of the semi-monthly sessions.

The hours passed pleasantly in series of bridge games, high score favors being awarded to the Misses Mary Mitchell, Mary Sakrada and Velma Aiken. Special guests at the affair were Miss Fern Chambers and Mrs. Paul Renner.

The evening was concluded with the serving of delicious refreshments by the hostess. Miss Agness Weiscoph will entertain the members at her home February 1 in Ewing Park.

St. Lukes Holds Parish Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 19.—A small crowd of members of the congregation were present owing to the inclement weather at the annual parish meeting of St. Luke's Episcopal church which was conducted last night in the edifice in Ewing Park.

Annual report of the treasurer and auxiliary were presented. But the election of officers for 1927 and also delegates to the diocesean convention which will take place next month in Erie has been postponed until a larger number of members can be present.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Sielen

High Floor Team Westminster Guests At College Tonight

Members of the New Castle high basketball team and the coaching staff have accepted an invitation from Andy McDonald graduate manager of athletics at Westminster college to attend the Allegheny-Westminster basketball game tonight at the college gym.

It is likely that the trip to the college town will be made in machines. The entire New Castle squad will more than likely attend the game.

The invitation was accepted here by Ralph H. Gardner local faculty manager.

Hi-Y Activities

Senior Hi-Y.

The Senior Hi-Y will not hold its regular meeting Monday evening, January 24 on account of the semester examinations being held in the school.

The next session will be held on Monday, January 31, at 6 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A.

North Street.

The North Street Junior Hi-Y met last night with John Leonard in charge. Five of the 26 members were absent, but nevertheless an excellent meeting was held.

Next Tuesday evening will be election night for officers of the new semester.

Ben Franklin.

Nearly Half Of Corn Crop Still Standing In Fields Of County

Half the corn that was cut last fall is still standing in shock in the fields in Lawrence county and neighboring counties, a condition never before known in the history of the district according to reports from different parts of this district.

On account of the extremely wet weather of the fall months it was very difficult to even cut corn but most farmers were able to get their corn cut and in shock but were unable to get a team of horses into the field to haul the corn to the barns and there were very few days in which they could husk corn in the fields.

Closely following this unprecedented spell of wet weather the ground became frozen and the stalks of corn in the shocks became frozen into the ground so that it was impossible to lift the shocks of corn from the ground. So after the ground became frozen hard enough that a team of horses could be taken into the field the corn was so fastened in the ground that it could not be removed.

Thus the month of January finds thousands of bushels of corn still in shock in the fields of this district and they will likely stay there until the spring thaw permit them to be harvested. This is a condition that has never happened in the history of anyone with whom we have spoken. There have been cases where a field or two over the country has been allowed to stand on account of sickness or mismanagement but the condition this year is general, hardly a farm but has some corn still in the fields.

Many have ben forced by the lack of feed for their stock to get some in and have taken a brush scythe and cut the stalks of corn in the shocks and thus hauled them to the barn leaving the cut off butts sticking in the frozen ground.

Those who had not yet cut their corn when this kind of weather set in are more fortunate for they can either go along and husk it or can more easily cut the stalks and haul the fodder with the corn to the barn Also where there are large shocks of corn some may become spoiled by the snow melting and causing decay in the inside of the shock. And many of those who thought they were fortunate enough to get their corn husked and in cribs are finding a large part of that spoiling on account of the extreme dampness of the grain when harvested. So it may be that those who still have their grain in the field may come off the better provided they are able to harvest it in the spring.

The only corn crop that is safe from loss is that which was put as ensilage into the silos on their farms but even they had their difficulties in filling the silos on account of the extreme wet weather and softness of the soils.

Rev. Leichliter At City Mission

Plans Made To Have Buffalo Minister Every Monday Evening In February

E. J. Berquist, Superintendent of the City Mission has made arrangements if they don't miscarry, where by the Rev. G. A. Leichliter, Pastor of the Prospect Avenue Baptist Church of Buffalo, N. Y., will preach every Monday night during the month of February at the City Mission, and occasionally it may be possible for Rev. Leichliter to spend Tuesday evening also.

Rev. Leichliter is glad to do this for the City Mission, and for his personal friendship to Berquist and the friends he has here in the city; and he will be at the City Mission every Monday evening during the month of February.

Arangements are also being made by the superintendent for several ministers and local well known singers to take part in the services at the City Mission on various nights

Fraternity Mother Has Been Selected

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 19.—Epsilon Theta Pi fraternity of Westminster College, has announced the choosing of Mrs. E. Haymonds of New Castle, as "fraternity mother."

The suggestion that each of the fraternities select a woman adviser who would supervise the needs of the members in all problems pertaining to the welfare of each individual, was made by Mrs. C. B. Robertson, dean of women of the college.

The Epsilon Theta Pi fraternity is the first of the five fraternities to select their "mother."

Nicaragua's navy consists of one small patrol boat, which is stationed on the Pacific side.

CHURCH NOTES

Two large audiences greeted Rev. L. C. Howe at the Christian church on Sunday. At the close of the Bible school hour all who were present assembled in front of the church for a group picture. A table which was filled with different kinds of Bibles, some of which were through the World War, some in the Civil War, and a testament which was 150 years old that were brought for the Thursday night service were placed in the center of the group. More than 50 persons were in the picture.

NEW ARRIVALS

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Parish, a son on Saturday.

EDENBURG PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Douglas and Mrs. Campbell of New Castle attended church at the Christian church Sunday evening.

Miss Sadie Wigton of Carbon spent Monday with her sister Mrs. Frank Louden.

I. M. Hofmeister was a New Castle visitor Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. McCullough left Sunday for St. Petersburg, Fla., where they will spend the rest of the winter.

PASTOR PRAISES AIMEE

Dear Editor:

I read two letters in recent numbers of The New Castle News commending the evangelist, Aimee S. McPherson. I am glad to know that you opened your columns to these letters and that two followers of the Master were not afraid to state their belief and conscientious conviction about this much-talked-of evangelist, Rev. Mrs. McPherson.

I want to add my testimony by saying that I believe her to be a chosen minister of the Master and one that He has used for the salvation of men and women out of harmony with the will of the Master.

I believe that the devil has persecuted this beloved woman by using men and women as his agents to destroy her good work and influence to the cause of Christ.

I also believe that she has led more souls into the kingdom of the Master than all the ministers in Lawrence county.

It was my good pleasure to be associated with an organization of ministers that, Christianlike, went as earnest inquirers after truth to hear and investigate the work done by Mrs. McPherson.

The minister who gave the report was pastor of a large Methodist church and attended her meetings many times and also witnessed her healings. I saw this man of God tremble and shed tears as he told of the mighty power and healing of a man and woman that he was a special witness to. He gave as one case a lady that had a large goiter who came forward for prayer. Mrs. McPherson placed the anointing oil on the goiter and offered a brief prayer and the goiter started to reduce, and continued to do so until it had disappeared. He said it reduced similar to a toy balloon that had been punctured by a pin. I said to him: "Doctor, were you close enough to be sure there was no trickery in the case?" He replied devotedly, as the tears ran down his cheeks: "Brethren, I was near enough to touch the lady and I know it was the power of Jesus healing the woman."

Another: the doctor stated he had gone to the hospital and had witnessed operations removing a cataract from the eye. This was a case of a man that had to be led up the aisle and to the altar where Mrs. McPherson anointed, and the doctor stood in arm's length of the man and he watched the cataract disappear and the man rise up and walk up and down the hall without any help.

I also questioned him as to the theology of this woman on the healing question. His first answer was that the woman did not take any of the glory to herself and told the people she was only a weak instrument in the hands of the Master and He was doing the healing.

He called our attention to I Cor. 12:9, "to another the gift of healing by the same Spirit". An important discussion with us was: Did Jesus redeem us from our diseases when He atoned for our sins? If healing was not in the atonement, why were the dying Israelites required to look at the type of the atonement for bodily healing? Num. 21:9.

If healing was not in the atonement, why did Jesus never commission anybody to preach the gospel without commanding them to heal the sick? I Cor. 12:27. Since the church is the body of Christ, does God want the body of Christ sick?

Is it not His will to heal any part of the body of Christ? If not, why does He command "any sick" in it to be anointed for healing?

Since "the body is for the Lord, a living sacrifice unto God", would He not rather have a well body than a wrecked one? We discussed many more important healings that God had brought about, using Mrs. McPherson as an instrument. I for one have faith in her and her work and I well know that when a woman takes her stand and says to the world that she is called to preach the gospel, she makes herself a target for the sharp arrows of criticism of men and women of the Christian faith, as well as those of the world.

FINDS WAY TO AVOID MUSCLE-LAMENESS

Athlete has simple method of keeping in perfect form

Athletes and trainers know how painful and disabling muscle-lameness can be. And they, more than almost anyone else, can tell you the best way to overcome it.

"In my training work as an athlete," writes Frank B. Conover, of 175 South St., Jersey City, N. J., "I have used Sloan's Liniment for the past five years and found it most effective for soreness caused by vigorous exercise. Also an incomparable remedy for stiff neck."

It is marvelous how ache and stiffness in lame muscles yield to the magic of Sloan's. Just a little patted on lightly and healing new blood tingles through the hurt place.

Away go "fatigue-poisons." Sore muscles limber up and stop aching. Get a bottle today and have it on hand. All druggists—35 cents.

Women's Simpler Hygiene
More Absorbent—
Discards like tissue

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND
Registered Nurse

ALL the problems of old-time hygienic ways have recently been ended, largely because of a new way called KOTEX.

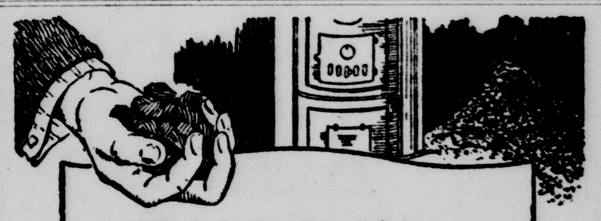

Kotex discards as easily as tissue. Thus no laundry, no embarrassment of disposal.

Being 5 times as absorbent as ordinary cotton "pads," you wear lightest gowns and frocks without slightest fear. Deodorizes, too, thus ending all fear of offense.

Obtain at any store without embarrassment simply by saying "KOTEX." Many stores have it already wrapped on counters, ready for you to pick up and take along without even asking for it.

Try today and you'll never again risk the uncertainty of old ways. Box of 12 costs only a few cents. Be sure you get the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

KOTEX
No laundry—discard like tissue

Coke is Coal without the soot!

COKE is what is left after the dirt-making matter in coal has been removed at the coke oven. That is why you can burn coke in your home furnace and have a clean home.

Being concentrated, coke burns longer and gives a much greater heat than coal, therefore requiring little attention, needing no poking and causing very little ash.

And we believe Clairton Nut Coke to be the best coke in the market for home furnace use—and the most economical.

Ancient Bible Is Discovered

Bible Said To Have Been Printed In 1541 Held By St. Louis Man

LEGISLATOR HOLDS UNIQUE DISTINCTION

By W. F. SULLIVAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 19.—O. J. Page, the new Republician floor leader in the Fifty-Fourth General Assembly in Missouri holds not only the distinction of attaining this position in his first session at Jefferson City, but also of being the only man in this state who served in that capacity in two states.

Page, who resides in Springfield, Mo., was a member of the Illinois legislature in 1899 and since that time has been school teacher, publisher and lawyer.

A rare bible, which in the year of its edition, possibly gets closer to the date of the old testament, than any in existence, is in possession of Walter A. Maier, professor of Semitic languages at Concordia Seminary here.

The bible is one of the few copies of the 1541 edition made by Hans Luft, celebrated publisher of the works of Martin Luther.

It came into the professor's possession shortly after the war when he bought it from an impoverished German general. German soldiers interned in this country to whom Prof. Maier served as spiritual adviser had asked him to find a purchaser for the volume and the professor bought it for his own collection.

Chief of Police Gerk is going to see that the lamp lighters and others charged with the duty of keeping St. Louis gas lamps burning, do not shirk their responsibility. He has issued an order that all street lamps be kept burning constantly during the hours they are supposed to be lit, stating that light is the greatest deterren to crime.

A telephone report will be made by police immediately of any street lamp that fails to burn.

Cancer never begins on a healthy spot of the skin, according to all evidences. Dr. Joseph Colt Bloodgood, international authority on cancer and professor at John Hopkins University at Baltimore, declares.

Cancer of the skin as well as of the mouth are diseases of "dirt and ignorance," and with correct public enlightenment, he said should be wiped off the reports of the United States Census Bureau.

"Left alone, uninformed, ignorant the average individual waits until the last stage of cancer," he added. During this waiting period, which is usually painless, the hopeless, are 50 per cent and the chances of the cure, if not hopeless, less than 20 per cent."

Many a man in trying to put his best foot forward gets it into his mouth.

It is harder to get a man to admit he is wrong when he knows it himself.

Report Rebellion In Mexico Still Quite Effective

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 19.—Announcement of a government census of clergymen in Mexico has aroused fears here that the government proposes to take action to reduce the number of Catholic priests in the country.

There is some mystery today as to the exact whereabouts of two of the most prominent prelates of Mexico.

Archbishop Jiminez had been reported as leading a rebel band in Jalisco, but the Episcopate states that this is not true, and the war department now states that it has no definite confirmation of these reports.

Archbishop Diaz, former spokesman for the Episcopate, is reported in Guatemala awaiting a boat for Chile, although one report says that he is to be returned to Mexico City since Guatemala declines to afford him an asylum.

The widespread rebellion is still effective, according to reports received here.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion

Gas in the stomach accompanied by the full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion".

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful or four tablets in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

MAN FAILS TO BLOW HEAD OFF WITH CAP USED FOR BLASTING

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 19.—William Hycross, 68, of Gypsy had been out of work for a long time and almost as long a chronic sufferer from illness.

Yesterday he got a percussion cap used in setting off blasts in coal mines, placed it on his tongue and ignited the fuse with a match. He was injured but after being taken to a hospital he was reported resting comfortably.

CHESS PLAYER PEEVED.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Dr. Emmanuel Lasker will not play in America's international chess tournament this year. In a newspaper article printed here he charges that he lost a game at the previous American contest because the clock in the contest room ceased functioning at a critical moment.

TO ARBITRATE OIL DISPUTE

U. S. Proposes Arbitration Of Oil Controversy In Mexico

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 19.—News that Secretary of State Kellogg has announced his willingness to arbitrate the differences with Mexico over the land and oil laws, was received in official circles here with undisguised satisfaction.

While officials were disinclined to make any comment until a formal proposal for arbitration has been submitted, they readily admitted that President Calles has been hopeful that the dispute might be taken from the field of diplomatic exchanges and transferred into the quieter realm of international judicial procedure.

It is expected here that instead of submitting the entire issue to arbitration that a specific case will be selected and submitted, providing that the United States Senate has agreed on arbitration. It is suggested here that the Hague Tribunal should be the arbitrating body, and submission to this body would require senate approval.

PULASKI NEWS

B. T. Mitcheltrees who recently underwent an operation in Buhl hospital has been able to return to his home here.

Miss Edna Gilliland and Mrs. Lois Arrow of New Castle, Mr. and Mrs. James Gilliland and children Ralph and Betty of New Bedford, James Gilliland and son Karl of West Middlesex and Mr. and Mrs Francis Taylor were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Gilliland.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church will meet at the home of Mrs. J. R. Meek on Friday evening.

Floyd Hotchkiss returned to Hotel Pulaski Monday after spending the week end at his home in Meadville.

The regular monthly meeting of the Sunday school board of the Methodist school met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Taylor on Monday evening.

Mrs. J. R. Meek and daughter Dorothy spent the day recently in Pittsburgh.

Your Income Tax

Income Tax in a Nutshell:

WHO? Single persons who had net income of $1,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $3,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period ends March 15, 1927.

WHERE? Collector of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? Instructions on Forms 1040A and 1040; also the law and regulations.

WHAT? One and one half per cent normal tax on the first $4,000 in excess of the personal exemptions and credits. Three per cent normal tax on the next $4,000. Five per cent normal tax on the balance of net income. Surtax on net income in excess of $10,000.

No. 3

The normal tax rate under the revenue act of 1926 is 1 1-2 per cent on the first $4,000 in excess of the personal exemption, credit for dependants, etc., three per cent on the next $4,000 and five per cent on the balance.

The surtax rates apply to net income in excess of $10,000, as in the revenue act of 1924. The maximum rate, however, under the 1926 act, is reduced to 20 per cent, which applies to net income in excess of $100,000, instead of a maximum of 40 per cent on net incomes in excess of $500,000, as was provided by the 1924 act.

The exemptions are $1,500 for single persons and $3,500 for married persons living together, and heads of families. In addition a taxpayer is entitled to a credit of $400 for each person dependent upon him for chief support if such person is under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective. Such dependent need not be a relative of the taxpayer nor a member of his household. The term "mentally or physically defective" includes not only cripples and those mentally defective, but persons in ill health and the aged.

A taxpayer, though unmarried, who supports in his home one or more relatives over whom he exercises family control, is the head of a family and entitled to the same exemption allowed a married person. Also he may claim $400 for each dependent. For example, a widower who supports in his home an aged mother and daughter 17 years old is entitled to an exemption of $3,500 as the head of a family, plus a credit of $400 for each dependent, a total of $4,300. The $400 credit, however, does not apply to the wife or husband of a taxpayer, though one may be totally dependent upon the other.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persisent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

Investigation Of Mason Death Shows It Was Accidental

Man Who Died As Result Of Fall Cause Of Probe By Officials

Investigation of the death of George Mason, colored, who was found with a fractured skull at the foot of a stairway leading to a Moravia street rooming house, was made last night by Police Lieutenant U. G. Harper, City Detective M. J. Young, Officers Robert Letero and J. D. Thomas and Coroner J. P. Caldwell and the conclusion reached that Mason had died as a result of a fall down the stairway as at first reported.

Following his death a story was started that Mason had been knocked down the stairway, but no evidence to substantiate this story was secured. The following persons who live in and around the building where the accident occurred were examined John McKisson, Jacob Rice, Mazie Roy, Arthur Long, George Burton, Viola Long, Laura Fields, McKinley Jordan and Geo. Moseby.

Several of those interrogated stated that Mason had fallen down stairs on another occasion several weeks ago. The stairway down which he fell last week was dark and it was claimed that Mason could not see very well at best.

Fifty Three Lose Auto Licenses In State In Week

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 19.—Drivers' licenses of forty-nine persons were revoked and the names of four others added to the official blacklist of the State Department of Highways in the weekly list announced today.

There were twenty-three revocations for intoxication, eight for reckless driving and five for transporting liquor.

Revocations for intoxication included Orin H. Campbell, Beaver Falls; Russell Harris, Bethlehem; William Haymer, Easton, and Lewrence Rittman, College Park, Bristol.

The licenses of Harry Frankhouser of Lewistown, was among those revoked for driving without the consent of the car owner.

Anthony J. Gantz, Warren and Claude Fry, Bethlehem, lost their licenses on larceny charges.

George W. Cope, Bethlehem, lost his license on a charge of aggravated assault and battery and John F. Kline, also of Bethlehem, lost his license because of habitual violations of the state motor code.

Special Services For Communion In First Church

Special services preparatory to the Communion will be held on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week in the First United Presbyterian church at 7:45.

Homestead May Now Be Annexed

(International News Service)

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Jan. 19.—Annexation of Homestead borough to the city of Pittsburgh to put an end to a political feud which has divided the borough into factions supporting and opposing Burgess John J. Cavanaugh, today was presented as a solution for the situation here as police under Police Captain J. J. Jenkins carried out a campaign which they said was designed to rid the borough of an army of "undesirables."

The proposal to effect a merger with the city of Pittsburgh gained momentum here when Burgess Cavanaugh called state police to the borough to aid him in raids against resorts.

HEART ATTACK KILLS "JUDGE" W. F. BURKE, CLEVELAND "SOLOMON"

CLEVELAND, Jan. 19.—William F. Burke, guiding spirit of Cleveland's "people's court," a quasi-judicial body created to settle minor disputes and avert actions in a regular tribunal, is dead.

A heart attack today cut him off suddenly from his duties as a modern Solomon, to whom more than 100,000 Clevelanders, in the last 15 years, had gone for redress from the small distractions that beset society.

"Judge" Burke had presided over this "court" from its inception. Proof of its success lies in the fact that of the many cases on its docket, almost none have gone further into a duly constituted court.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

MEETING IN MOONLAND

"Here I am! Lean on me!" said Peter, as he reached the ledge. But the little girl laughed lightly.

"I need not to lean," cried she, "but I will take your hand—so—just that you may guide me!"

So hand in hand the boy and the girl climbed down the mountain side. And the Man in the Moon watched them go and smiled slyly to himself but they did not see him, for he was peeping out from behind his veil of clouds.

And at last Peter and the little girl who had been lame came to the bottom of the mountain, and it didn't take them long from there to reach the cornfield.

"Hi, Mistress Moo. Invite us to your feast, will you?"

"Now, Peter had only intended to surprise the cow, but he frightened the poor creature to death. Shoulder deep in the corn, she had not heard the children coming. She leaped into the air and Peter could hear her teeth clacking together.

"My eye!" Mistree Moo gulped. "What is going to happen to me? I have done nothing to nobody. I'm a harmless, helpless creature, I am!"

Peter was so surprised at what he had done that he couldn't for the moment find his tongue. He was just a wee bit ashamed of his old friend, too, for being such a coward. But the little girl was sorry and ran straight through the cornstalks to the frightened cow.

"Don't shiver and shake so, dear Mistress Moo," said she, and in so sweet a voice that Mistress Moo stopped trembling at once. "The boy never meant to make you jump like that. It was but his way of greeting you, an old friend. Come, look up! See who it is who has followed you to Moonland!"

Mistress Moo didn't dare turn her head, but she did roll her eyes. And when she saw Peter you should have seen her smile. If you've never seen a cow smile it's too bad, for it is one of the sights that ought not to be missed. Mistress Moo's mouth was large and now it stretched almost from ear to ear.

"My eye!" murmured Mistress Moo. "You! Who'd have thought it! Jumped after me, did you? Well, well, well! Some leap, boy, wasn't it?"

Next: "Who's Pixie?"

DINNER STORIES

Prof. Noalot was very absent-minded. One morning he drifted into the barber's to be shaved. After the operation he continued to occupy the chair and the barber, thinking he had dozed off, gently reminded him by saying: "Asleep, sir?"

The professor started. "Bless me, no!" he exclaimed. "I'm not asleep, but I am terribly short-sighted. When I took my glasses off I was no longer able to see myself in the mirror opposite and naturally I supposed I had already gone home."

The heir to the family fortunes and misfortunes, under the supposition that "we must stick together," is unswervingly loyal to Dad, even when that loyalty involves attributes not usually belonging to that side of the household.

Mother was considering a vacation trip, and someone asked Son if he and Dad could manage the cooking during her absence.

"Oh, sure," was the ready reply. "Dad's a good cook. We can't eat his cooking, but the cats can."

Responsive to an advertisement a strong, healthy appearing girl appeared for housework. Satisfied with the wages to be paid and other matters, she said she would take the place, and that her sister would accept it if she should not like it.

"I want you to understand that I can't do any hard work," said the girl. "My eyes are bad and I can't stand on my feet."

"Well," said the lady, "can your sister stand on her feet?"

"Oh, no, and her back is weak, too!" replied the young woman.

Whereupon the lady said, "I don't need anyone to stand on her head. You should apply to Ringling Bros. Perhaps they could place you."

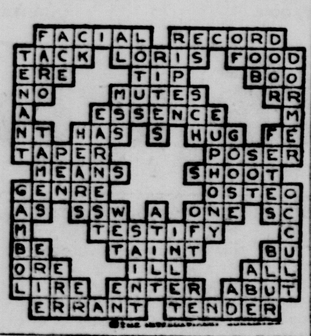

MARSHAL KILLS MAN HUNTING FOR HOOCH, DRAWS FIVE YEARS

GALLIPOLIS, O., Jan. 19.—Abe Young, marshal of Hamden, O., was sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary for five years for killing Charles Beckley in the Baltimore & Ohio railroad station at Hamden, where he was waiting for a train to carry him to his family in Cleveland on September 9. Young said he took Beckley to be a bootlegger and attempted to search his suitcase, which contained nothing but clothing. A scuffle ensued and Beckley was shot dead by Young.

S. S. Conference Here On Friday

Mid-Year Efficiency Conference To Be Held At Y. W. C. A.

REV. C. W. WELLBURN WILL MAKE ADDRESS

Mid-year efficiency conference of the Lawrence County Sabbath School association will be held at the Y. W. C. A. of this city Friday of this week, January 21, afternoon session and fellowship dinner in the evening. At both afternoon and evening gatherings, Rev. C. W. Wellburn, newly elected director of religious education of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association, will be the chief speaker, and those who attended the state convention at Reading last year were very much impressed with his dynamic personality and forceful message.

The afternoon session while especially for county and district officers and departmental superintendents, is also open for pastors, Sabbath school superintendents and others interested in constructive Sabbath school work. Places must be reserved for the fellowship dinner in the evening, the cost being 75 cents, and those planning to attend can call Mrs. William J. Marshall, county secretary, phone 3660-M, sometime before noon Friday.

County and district officers who are not able to be present should appoint a substitute, as a good attendance is required to be a 100 per cent county and an effort is being made to have every officer or departmental superintendent or a substitute present.

The following is the splendid program that has been provided:

Convention theme, "Study to show thyself approved unto God."

2:15—Registration.

2:45—Devotionals conducted by Rev. H. C. Weaver, pastor First Methodist church, New Castle. Music in charge of Rev. A. M. Stevenson, pastor First Presbyterian church, Ellwood City.

3—"Cooperation," Rev. G. C. Fohner, assistant pastor and Sunday school superintendent First Presbyterian church, New Castle.

3:15—Report of State Sabbath School association convention at Reading by Mrs. Harry Brown, mother of Letitia Brown, newly elected associate state young people's superintendent.

3:30—Music.

3:40—"How to Keep the Young People in the Sabbath School," Rev. S. L. Maxwell, pastor Epworth M. E. church, New Castle.

4:10—Greetings from State President Percy L. Craig, New Castle.

4:50—"The Adult Bible Class," Rev. George M. Landis, pastor First Baptist church, New Castle.

5:10—Reports of departmental superintendents, announcements, adjournment.

CHAPLIN MAY BE OUT OF BED BY END OF WEEK

Physician Says Comedian Shows Improvement; Eats Soft Food

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. — Charlie Chaplin, suffering from a nervous breakdown as a result of his wife's divorce suit, probably will be able by Saturday or Sunday to leave his bed at the apartment of his attorney, Nathan Burkan, the comedian's physician, Dr. Gustav Tieck, announced today.

The famous screen player then will leave as soon as possible for Los Angeles to fight the divorce suit. He will begin by seeking a removal of the receivership over his property and also will oppose the award of $4,000 monthly to Lita Grey Chaplin as temporary alimony.

Chaplin has left the liquid diet prescribed for him ever since he collapsed on his arrival in New York. He now is allowed to eat soft food, such as poached eggs and custards.

Tinney Has Chance For Recovery Now

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19. — Frank Tinney, blackface comedian, who is a patient at the Navy Yard hospital here, has shown some improvement in the last two weeks, according to physicians. One said today:

"It looks now as if there might be a possibility of his recovery. Tinney is able to walk about without assistance, although we cannot tell whether he ever will be able to return to the stage."

Three Killed In Chinese Riot

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Three Chinese were killed and several injured at Shanghai today during a riot which broke out at one of the Japanese-owned cotton mills, according to a Central News dispatch.

The street car strike at Shanghai is still in effect.

AVOID UGLY PIMPLES

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer, if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste", a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Winners At Doll Show Announced

First Prize Is Awarded To Miss Elberta McCormick Of East Washington Street

Announcement is made today that the prize of $5.00 for the most popular doll at the recent Quota Club doll show by popular vote went to Miss Elberta McCormick, 663 East Washington street. The prize for the largest doll was won by Miss Mary Louise Meehan, 120 North Crawford street; for the smallest doll, Miss Janet Bittner, 302 Fairmont avenue; for the most beautiful doll, Misses Mary and Eileen O'Leary, 432 Park avenue; for the homeliest, Miss June Fowler, 201 North Mercer street; for the oldest doll, Miss Rosalie Grugiolo, 315 Shaw street, and for the doll best dressed to represent a nation, James Hewitt Jr., Edinburg, Pa.

The first prize for the best commercial entry was won by Miss Mary Bigley of the Work Basket. Miss Bigley's display represented a group of ladies doing various kinds of art work on the lawn in front of their home. One group was busily engaged in making hooked rugs; another making needle point; another tiny lady was making a lamp shade, and still another painting plaques. Tea was being served under a gay umbrella by a trim little maid. Every detail of this elaborate display was consistently carried out in detail.

Miss Bigley's entry is now on display in the window of the Lawrence Savings & Trust Company.

The second prize was won by L. A. Pearsall Company. Their display represented a display board receiving the finishing touches from the brushes of a couple of diminutive sign painters. The setting around the sign board was very realistic and was made effective by a tiny lake in the foreground.

This entry will be on display all this week in the window of the New Castle Dry Goods Company.

The third prize was won by Miss Genevieve Young of the Green Dot Beauty Parlor.

Dolls which have not been called for are being held at the home of Mrs. Fred Wolford, 215 East North street.

Why We Become Weak, Run-Down If Glands Fail

THOUSANDS drag through life always tired and worn-out, suffering with loss of energy and vitality, and fail to recognize the cause of their trouble. Medical authorities now know the trouble as "asthenia," and claim it is caused by an unbalanced glandular system or weakened glands.

Glands exert a remarkable influence on health, strength and vitality. When the glands function normally they supply their vitalizing hormones (or secretions) which are essential to physical well-being. And when the glands fail to function, health fails.

Now, glandular treatment, which is endorsed by eminent scientists and physicians of this country and Europe, is being used by thousands of men and women to help overcome a weakened, worn-out, run-down, exhausted condition, and to regain the strength, vigor and vitality that are the natural benefits resulting from a normal glandular system.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Glandogen is prepared in convenient tablet form, for both men and women. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. Love & Megown Drug Co.

French Liquors Seized By Agents At Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 19.—Carefully wrapped in French newspapers and packed in rags, 1200 quarts of genuine cognac, valued at $30,000, were stored in the government warehouse here while August Baumgaetner, a recent arrival from Germany, and F. J. Pfleghar, of Pittsburgh, were held by prohibition agents on charges of bringing contraband liquor into the country.

Agents seized the consignment of French liquor at the warehouse of W. J. Payne, here, after receiving word from New York that a shipment of cognac had arrived there, part of it consigned to an address in Pittsburgh.

Buys 207 Acre Farm For $10

MERCER Pa., Jan. 19.—That punctuality is the essence of success is proven by the late arrival of 12 minutes here at the sheriff's sales of Monday of Franklin parties interested in the sale of a 207 acre farm in the northern part of the county against which a writ had been filed.

The bidding with which the creditors on each writ always protect the price was lacking when this farm was put up for sale and knocked down to H. C. Johnson of Mercer who bid $10 to start it, never expecting to be named the owner and sole bidder.

NEW CASTLE HIGH DEFEATS ZELIENOPLE 35-19

Locals Display Scoring Power

New Castle Remains Undefeated In Section IV By Brilliant Victory

ZELIENOPLE HAS FINE QUINTET

New Castle High's floor team continued undefeated in Section IV of he W. P. I. A. L. on Tuesday night by dropping the Zelienople High tossers by a score of 35 to 19. The game was played on the Senior High floor.

The locals assumed the lead shortly after the start of the game and held a slight lead at all times. The visitors had a well balanced and hard fighting team but their offensive ability was lacking Zelienople scored but four times from the field.

Locals Take Lead.

With Johnson and Ostrosky leading the way the locals gained a lead of 13 to 5 as the first quarter ended. It was quite apparent that he Red and Black machine was too strong for the Butler county contingent. Time and again the visitors tried to break through the five-man defense offered by the Bridenbaugh coached team, but failed in their purpose.

New Castle High continued their scoring ability in the second quarter and counted eleven more points, while Zelienople was content with eight. The score at half time favored New Castle 24 to 13.

The locals were content to ease up somewhat in the third quarter with Coach Bridenbaugh using many of his second string men. Zelienople failed to tally during the entire third quarter so close did Klaber and Ostrosky guard their respective forwards.

Zelienople came to life in the fourth quarter to outscore the locals for the only time during the entire game. New Castle counted but four points the entire fourth session, while the visitors tallied six.

In foul tossing the New Castle team showed a marked improvement caging nine out of 12 tries. Zelienople alone displayed fine foul tossing by annexing 11 out of 18. Had it not been for their foul shooting the Zelienople team would have been badly swamped.

Three New Castle players stood out quite prominently in the victory last night, "Johnny" Johnson, McCrath and Ostrosky, these three boys together tallied ten field goals. Klaber and Ostrosky put up a fine game at the guards.

Turk Makes Debut.

Earl Turk, former floor star made his debut with the locals last night as a substitute for Reider. Turk was injured during football season and it was feared for a time that he would be unfit for basketball, but his injuries have healed sufficient to allow him to play the floor game. Sillman, Richards and Neyman looked good when injected into the fray.

E. Nesbitt and R. Nesbitt were the best for the visitors. Goodhart a former New Castle boy now residing in Zelienople was used as a substiute in the game.

The locals by their victory last night have now taken three straight league wins and it begins to look as if they will be fighting for the Section IV championship when the season is over.

Reider	F	E. Nesbitt
Johnson	F	R. Nesbitt
McGrath	C	Weigle
Klaber	G	Eicholtz
Ostrosky	G	Ziegler

Subs: New Castle, Turk, Neyman, McClelland, Sillman, Richards, Kulich; Zelienople, Goodhart.

Referee, Smith.

McGraw and Robbie Are Old Friends But Swap "Horses" Very Seldom

John McGraw, manager of the Giants since baseball donned its first derby, and Wilbert Robinson, pilot of the Brooklyn Dodgers, once played together with the famous old Baltimore Orioles. But apparently they have little luck dealing with each other in building up their ball clubs. The recent deal which sent Burleigh Grimes to the Giants and Butch Henline to the Dodgers from the Phils via the Giant ball yard, is the first involving the New York and Brooklyn clubs in ten years. Last previous swap was that of Lew McCarthy, Giant catcher, for Fred Merkle, famous second baseman, in August, 1916.

College Game This Evening

Westminster Plays Allegheny At New Wilmington Gym

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 19.—Variety is the spice of life, and for this reason the Westminster College cage team will hesitate long enough in its journey over the "rocky" Tri-State Conference road to entertain the cagers from Allegheny College Wednesday evening on the Westminster floor.

Whether or not the Meadville team will pay its respects in a pleasing manner to the Westminster host remains to be seen. Not to their discredit, however, it might be said that they refused to be gracious to fives as represent Pitt and Geneva and did their best to play the part of angry visitors on their calls at W.-J. and West Virginia.

Critics who have seen the Meadville outfit in action claim it to be the outstanding minor college team of the district. It is composed entirely of veterans, with its offense built around McClurg, a tall basket shooter, who wrote defeat all over the Panther stadium not long ago. Westminster must stop the big boy if the "party" is to end with a pleasing taste for the home group.

Coach John Lawther was the recipient of little solace at Beaver Falls Monday evening when his charges fell before the Covenantors. The shooting ability displayed by the Westminster team was fearful to behold. The Covenantors were more than held even in floor play, but the bucket hangers suffered from halitosis or some such ailment. The opening in the rim could not be found, although the backboard received many compliments in the closest possible proximity to the vacant spot.

Lawther drilled his men hard Tuesday. Several of his men displayed poor form Monday, but but there will be no changes in the line-up.

The world's individual bowling record for three games is held by Roy Flagg of Aberdeen, S. D., who rolled 270, 300, 300, a total of 870 for the three games.

Dempsey And Tilden In Comeback; Defeated, Now Darlings Of Gallery

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK Jan. 19.—There being absolutely no way of accounting for the vagaries of human emotionalism, it therefore may be mentioned in pasing that the greatest heroes of the athletic year were not Bobby Jones and Jess Sweetser, who won England's two major golf titles nor Babe Ruth who broke the world series home run record nor the various and sundry persons who started across the English and forgot to come back.

No, sir, it wasn't anybody who won anything. It was a couple of gents who lost, to wit, Jack Dempsey and William T. Tilden, Jr.

Their names were anathema to the public for the six or seven years they were winning against the field. The man in the seats saw Dempsey as a ne'er-do-well, Tilden as a supercilious egotist and he liked neither with great zeal.

But Tilden lost his national tennis championship to Rene Lacosta, of France; whereupon, the gallery turned upon itself, cheered the man's every move and, as he left the court defeated, gave him a thundering ovation, the echo of which has not died yet.

Tilden, who afronted the patrons of tennis with his rather adverse court personality, is the darling of the gallery today, the most popular American player since the meteoric McLaughlin "2 sold" the sport to this country. The fans apparantly can see something far more heroic in the tragedy of the great man defeated than in the uninspired spectacle of the automaton victorious.

Even the tennis association, which opposed Tilden's every move in other years, now is the young man's devoted friend and not without reason. If Tilden wasn't available in 1927, we could save a lot of time by presenting the Davis Cup to France, per se, and turn our attention to something important.

The public reaction to Dempsey's defeat by Gene Tunney was not less favorable. For years, Dempsey himself expected to be quite devoid of friends within the hour that witnessed the passing of his heavyweight title from his head to another's. Vastly unpopular as a winner he couldn't see himself other than the suprem pariah the moment he lost.

Instead, there was great loss of life reported in the concerted rush to shake his dazed hand. They put him in the ring with Tunney at the Garden a few weeks later and the dear old public started gibbering over the man who had done nothing except lose and hanging garlands of sumac about the man whose only offense had been to win.

It is possible that Jack Kearns' campaign of frightfulness against Dempsey before the fight had gained the ex-champion some degree of popular sympathy but that doesn't explain why the boys decided, at that early date, that Tuney should be an object of approbrium. In fact, there is no explaination for anything. When John Sap decides to go in for emotionalism, he proceeds to "emote" with or without reason, preferably the latter.

Ponion Stars As New Castle Girls Trim Zelienople

Local Forward Cages Ball Thirteen Times, Zelienople Outclassed 51 to 8

Miss Anne Ponion, a sophomore forward, member of the girls' varsity team at senior high, distinguished herself last night in the game with Zelienople high, by caging the spheroid a total of 13 times. New Castle high swamped the visitors 51 to 8.

The New Castle girls took the lead at the very outset of the battle, with Miss Ponion and Miss Patterson leading the way and it was not long until they had plied up a comfortable lead. The Zelienople team lacked experience and their offensive ability needed polishing somewhat. Miss Zeigler scored the lone field goal awarded the visitors for the entire first half of the game.

The score at half time favored New Castle 25 to 4. Miss Ponion tallied seven times from the floor in the first two periods with Captain Patterson caging three. It looked like the days of "Sal" McGoun to watch the uncanny shooting of the former Ben Franklin high star.

The Red and Black girls were content to take things rather easy in the third quarter and many subs found their way into the game. Miss Helen Hart, a substitute forward, played a fine game and was credited with three field goals. Miss Plattner, Miss Wolf and Miss Patton occupied stellar roles.

For Zelienople the playing of Miss Zeigler, Miss Scott and Miss Rogner featured.

New Castle 51		Zelienople 8
Patterson	F	Zeigler
Ponion	F	Rogner
Plattner	C	Kirker
Patton	S. C.	Scott
Wolf	G	Phillis
Wygonowski	G.	Frishkorn

Subs—Craig, Kerr, Kaufman, Haines, Jones, Rawlins.

Field goals—Patterson 5, Ponion 13, Hart 3, Zeigler 2, Rogner.

Referee—Bruckheimer, Slippery Rock.

Rickard To Charge $20 For Best Tickets

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'l News Service

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—It will cost the rabid ringsiders only a matter of $20 for the privilege of viewing Jack Delaney and Jimmy Maloney on terms of some ocular familiarity the night of February 18, provided the New York state athletic commission is willing to listen to reason, which it usually is not. However, the request will be made by Mr. T. Rickard in person and maybe the boys will fall over backward at a glance from his stern eye.

Anyhow, the tip today was that Rickard had gone overboard with sheer generosity to the gallant participants and that he will visit the commissioners either next Friday or the following Tuesday to tell them the sad story, in Toto.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

BAN Johnson and Judge Landis will go to the mat for a decision Monday in Chicago, and one of the two will be missing from organized baseball after the meeting.

Johnson has accused Landis of passing the buck when in reality the American League wanted him to let down Speaker and Cobb without sulying their names.

Ban claims that he has not turned over to Landis all the evidence that his detectives gathered, and says he won't until compelled to do so by a court in law.

A REPORT from Chicago credits Ban with saying Landis acted in the Cobb case because Ty wrote a letter to Dutch Leonard and could not give him a satisfactory explanation.

His line about Speaker was somewhat different, Ban characterizing Tris as "cute", and said that he could tell more about Speaker if he so desired.

Johnson intimated that Landis fired the shots toward Cobb and Speaker for personal notoriety. Landis claims his hand was forced by a newspaper and news association.

A FEW years ago Ban and the judge took holds. The match was stopped when the American League magnates promised Landis that he would hear no more from Ban.

Ban says that he is ready to tell Landis to his face on Monday why they are enemies. He intimated that it was a financial problem that first caused their break.

Johnson will enter the test with only one magnate, Phil Ball of the Browns, in his corner. The hearing may produce other seconds, but the coming scrap will be worth hearing.

RULE or ruin is the policy of some sport promoters. Providing they cannot be the whole cheese they try to ruin those who do not fall for their line. The policy is a bad one, not only for sports in general, but for those who adopt such a kaiseristic policy.

ACCORDING to reports from the training camps of Elky Clark and Fidel LaBarba, the latter will be returned winner on points when the Scotchman meets the American friday night in New York City. Fidel is credited with being faster than Elky. The latter, however, may be working under wraps.

BASEBALL scandals which occurred more than five years ago will not be probed, according to action taken at French Lick, Ind., during a major-minor league conference. A universal draft system will be made effective and whereby five leagues not now affected will come to terms with the majors.

DR. C. C. Green's aversion to "Athleticphobia" has drawn more than passing notice from scribes in different cities. The aversion is not new. The term is. However, an instance of what Dr. Green dislikes was feared when fans were barred from attending two basketball games in New York. The school teams played without a mob yelling for blood.

Athleticphobia is a new term coined by Dr. C. C. Green, but its meaning is not new. However, recently it was feared that "athleticphobia" would make its appearance during a scholastic basketball game in Gotham. School authorities, fearing violence, placed a ban on fans' attendance. The game was played and no violence occurred. The fuss caused the many to suffer, as they could not witness the contest.

In the early days of the National League one pitcher usually did all the hurling for a team. When he was relieved it was not to sit on the bench, but to play in the outfield

Highest Scoring Team in Big Ten Is After Honor Again This Year

Indiana University's basketball team topped the Western Conference in scoring last season and hopes to repeat this year. Art Beckner, leading point scorer of the Big Ten last season, is still with the team, as is Julius Krueger, who finished third last winter. He is captain this year. Ross Sibly, Giant center, is another star. Their coach is Everett Dean.

Westminster On Carnegie Tech Grid Schedule

Tech To Battle Westminster At Youngstown On September 24

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 19.—(Special)—Carnegie Tech will play the Oregon Aggies in football November 26 in Portland, Ore., as the final game of the season for the locals, Clarence Overend, graduate manager of athletics, announced today.

As the trip will be the longest taken by any Carnegie team and will involve the first game on the western coast to be scheduled in athletic history at Carnegie, special faculty permission was solicited and obtained before arrangements were closed. A special ruling, carrying the stipulation that two faculty members shall accompany the squad to render scholastic assistance, was made.

With the booking of the Oregon game, Carnegie Tech's schedule for next season, is now complete with a total of ten engagements. Notre Dame, which lost its only game of last season to Carnegie, will not be played, but it is likely that a meeting will be arranged for 1928. The schedule follows:

September 24—Westminster at Youngstown, O.
October 15—Washington & Jefferson at Pittsburgh.
October 22—Pittsburgh university at Pittsburgh.
October 29—West Virginia university at Morgantown.
November 5—New York university at New York.
November 11—Western Reserve at Pittsburgh.
November 19—Detroit at Pittsburgh.

Junior A Girls Defeat Senior A's

In the best game that has been played to date in the Girls' Inter-Class League the Junior A team defeated the Senior A's by a 20 to 15 score. The younger co-eds started off with a bang and were in the lead by a substantial margin at the end of the quarter.

They still led at the half by nine points, the score being 12 to 3. The Seniors made a valiant comeback during the final quarter and at one time had tied the score. The Juniors spurted, however, in the last few minutes and several field goals gave them the victory.

For the vanquished Captain Warner and N. Bogdon did well on the offense and Miss Gowain played a good game at side-center. Stanley, McCartney and Graham played best for the winners.

Senior A—15		Junior A—20
Warner	F	Graham
Bogdon	F	Stanley
Lachner	C	McGrath
Gowain	S. C.	McAuley
Sankey	G	McGuire
Johnson	G.	McCartney

Subs.:—Foster for Stanley, Stanley for McGrath.

Referee:—Miss Kirker.

Girls Announce Floor Schedule

New Castle High Maidens Have Strong Teams Booked For This Year

Miss Marion McNees, manager of the New Castle high girls' varsity team, today made public the schedule that will be played by the Red and Black lassies for the remainder of the year.

The schedule calls for many hard games, with the Sharon high girls, champions of the United States last year, as the headliner for the local court on Saturday night of this week.

Other teams to be met by the locals are Zelienople, Mars, Evans City and Beaver Falls.

Jan. 22—Sharon high at New Castle.
Feb. 4—Evans City at Evans City.
Feb. 11—Mars high at New Castle.
Feb. 15—Zelienople at Zelienople.
Feb. 18—Beaver Falls at New Castle.
Feb. 19—Sharon high at Sharon.

Mention Barrow As Successor To Ban Johnson

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. — Reports were in circulation today that the name of Edward G. Barrow, business manager of the New York Yankees, would be advanced as a candidate for Ban Johnson's office when the American League magnates convene on Monday to consider Johnson's most recent attack on the regime of Judge Landis. The story had its inception in this city where Johnson succeeded in alienating Col. Jacob Ruppert, president of the Yankees, by his subsequent statement that he, Johnson, had his suspicions of the integrity of the 1922 world series, in which the Yankees were a participant.

Until that statement appeared, Ruppert had expressed no opinion on the Landis-Johnson question beyond saying that he was "tired of the whole thing."

Grovers To Play Allegheny Friday

GROVE CITY, Pa., Jan. 19.—Though not entirely unexpected, Grove City's early season defeat at the hands of W. & J. Saturday was a bitter disappointment to ardent followers of the Crimson cage team who had sincerely hoped that Captain Elmer Stevens and his mates would rid themselves of the Wash-Jeff jinx this year. The jinx, however, remains and having felt the pangs of defeat the Grovers will now awaken to the fact that the good ship "Grove City" has a rough voyage to travel over before the curtain is rung down in March.

A marked improvement must be seen this week if Grove City hopes to make a creditable showing against Allegheny Friday night in their game at Meadville. Allegheny has one of the best floor quints in tri-state circles and unless the Grovers return to life the outcome may be disastrous. Practice was resumed here yesterday and Coach Thorn is driving his boys for the Methodist contest

Landis And Ban Ready For Test

Battle May Result In New Commissioner Or President

AMERICAN LEAGUE OWNERS MEET SUNDAY

By GENE HOFFMAN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—Foreboding quiet prevailed along the baseball front today as Generals Landis and Johnson, principals in the pastime's bitterest feud, marshaled their forces for the titanic "showdown" battle scheduled for Sunday and Monday.

Respected local opinion is practically unanimous in the belief that when the smoke of this engagement has cleared away there will be a "help wanted" sign hung on the door of organized baseball, calling either for a new commissioner, or a president of the American league. The odds favor the latter.

Feud Six Years Old

The feud between Ban Johnson, fiery prexy of the Junior circuit, and the mild but firm Judge Landis, dates back six years. Since then several heady flareups have threatened to remove one or the other from his high position in baseball. But each time mediators managed a conciliatory peace.

The present crisis was precipated by the Cobb-Speaker scandal, which "broke" a short time after the widely advertised harmony meeting of major league officials, at which Landis and Johnson were photographed, arm in arm, a veritable Damon and Pythias.

After the Cobb-Speaker explosion set the public to asking a lot of questions no one seemed inclined to answer, Johnson broke a long silence with the charge that Commissioner Landis alone was responsible for clouding the escutcheons of Cobb and Speaker, and that he was trying to "pass the buck" to the American league.

Stands by Charge.

Landis countered by summoning major league officials to meet with him here Monday when he promised to thresh out the whole matter to a bitter finish. Johnson met that move by calling a meeting of American league directors for the Sunday before. At this meeting American league officials will decide whether or not they will attend the Landis hearing.

"It looks like a merry session Monday," Johnson said today which was taken to mean that the American league officials will attend the Landis party. "I stand by every charge I have made," he continued, "and I am prepared to prove everything I say."

Withholding "Bullets".

Landis was back in town today from French Lick, Ind., where he attended the major-minor league meeting. But he refused point blank to talk. As one observer put it, "he doesn't intend to fire until he sees the white of Johnson's eye."

The general belief that the storm will blow Johnson out of his $40,000 a year job is based on the bylaws that govern the game. President Johnson has stated that he will not turn over to the commissioner certain documents which he possesses unless forced to do so in a United States court.

Showing a well balanced offense, the Sophomore B team handed the Sophomore A's an 18 to 11 drubbing in a game played at the Senior High gym last evening.

The Sophomore B's outplayed their opponents throughout the struggle and were successful in scoring nine points in each half. The score at the end of the first half was 9 to 5.

A great deal of interest is being manifested in the inter-class league this year and every game brings out a crowd of student fans. The league is in charge of William "Bill" Klee, physical director at the Senior High school.

Lisbon Cancels Game Tonight

The Lisbon girls' team scheduled to play the Rick-Overland maidens in the preliminary game at the Y. M. C. A. tonight, informed the locals yesterday that they would be unable to appear here tonight.

The Rick-Overland girls will journey to Salem on Thursday night to battle the strong girls' team of that city.

INDEPENDENT A. A. BANQUET TONIGHT

Association Will Ask Franchise From Lawrence League

Members of the Independent Athletic association will banquet tonight at the home of T. C. Richards. The team which the association will sponsor intends to make application for a franchise in the Lawrence County league.

Among the special guests will be William G. Andrews, Ed. Fritz, Walter Hart, Bart Richards and Charles Walters.

The banquet will be inspersed by entertainers as follows: Harry Ross, Vitus Conti, Emil Strizzi, Steve Griffiths, Bill Chill, Frank deLillo, and a quartet consisting of H. E. Ross, M. A. Ross, Bill Chill and Frank Colo.

Service Stores Quintet Defeats Regals 24 To 19

The Handy Service Store quintet led by Hemming, Honkonen and Mackey defeated the Regals 24 to 19 in a Boy's league game played Tuesday night on the Y. M. C. A. court.

The Service team went into an early lead and at half time were ahead 13 to 10. The Regals lacked a strong offensive while the Service team counted ten field goals.

The Service Store boys outscored the Regals 11 to 9 in the third and fourth quarters with Hemming and Mackey playing a leading part.

For the Regals the work of Ginsberg and Winnick was the best.

Handy Service—24.		Regals—19.
Hemming	F	Solomon
Smith	F	Ginsberg
Honkonen	C	H. Levine
Mackey	G	Winnick

New Team Forms At Sharon High; Seek Floor Games

Another cage team has been added to the Sharon high school.

This time it is a team that was originated from the various gym classes in the high school and plays under the name of the Sharon High Gymnastics.

Although it is a little late in the season to form such a team of this kind they have already lined up several class B high school squads and expect to schedule several more.

This team is being coached by R. B. McCandless, football coach and gym director of the institution.

Manager Lou Burtt also announces that they will be glad to meet any class B independent or scholastic team in Lawrence county. Any team desiring a game on their own floor can schedule the same by writing him at 371 Jefferson avenue, Sharon, or phone 2273-R.

Methodist Team Desires Games

The First Methodist quintet of the New Castle church league desires to book games with all first class teams in the city or county. The Methodists can offer a fast attraction.

The following teams are asked to get in touch with Jack Frazier, the Methodist team manager, by calling 935-J between 5 and 7 o'clock: Sharon, Bessemer, Beaver Falls and Mt. Jackson. The teams do not have to be church teams but any first class combination.

The Sesquicentennial Stadium in Philadelphia, with a seating capacity of 150,000, is by far the largest in America.

Can Mac Lose It? By Feg Murray

Copyright, 1927, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

The name of Smith has ever been a prominent one in the great game of golf. True, the clan of Jones leads the clan of Smith just at present, but more Smiths have won golf honors than have those who sport the cognomen made famous by the one and only Bobby, of Atlanta, Ga.

MacDonald Smith, of the Lakeville Club of Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y., must have been rather discouraged last year when his friend and fellow-golfer of the name of Jones won both the British and United States open championships. For Mac Smith, who is ten years older than Bobbie Jones, would give his right eye to win either one of the two big titles which the young Atlanta wizard corralled within the space of seventeen days. For Mac has been playing golf off and on now for seventeen years, yet always a jinx has hovered over him, preventing him from winning one of the game's two biggest prizes.

MacDonald Smith was born in Carnoustie, Scotland, in 1892. He came to America when he was eighteen and straighway tied for first place in the United States open championship with his brother Alex and J. J. McDermott. Brother Alex won, and that was the nearest that Mac ever came to winning that title. Another brother, Willie, won the United States open in 1899, and then lost to Alex in 1906 after a tie. Some golfers, these Smiths! There were two other brothers too (no, not the famous pair with the whiskers) who also starred at the Scotch pastime.

Throughout years of fine playing, in which he has won the Canadian, the Western, North and South, Metropolitan, Long Island, California, and other open championships, Smith probably had his greatest disappointment in the 1925 British championship. At the start of the final round, he was six strokes ahead of the field, and Victory seemed at last within his grasp; but a crowd of 15,000 bothered him so that he took an 83, and finished third, as he had done in 1923 and '24.

One of Mac's greatest achievements was his winning of the 1926 Metropolitan open, after he and Gene Sarazen had set a record by tying for 108 holes. Smith finally won by shooting a 66 on the seventh round.

Will he discard his title of "Hard-Luck Champion" in 1927?

Feg Murray Says—

"Give me an example of a long sentence," said a hockey player-writer to a team-mate.

"Ten minutes in the hoose-gow."

SPORTS DONE BROWN

Spurred on by the success of its tennis team in the United States last year France is already discussing its chances on the American courts and in the Davis cup matches next summer.

While the French team failed to carry off the Davis cup held for years by America, thanks to Big Bill Tilden and his cohorts, it gave the American team a fright of its career and did turn in two notable triumphs. Henri Cochet defeated Bill Tilden in the national singles championship tourney and fought it out with Rene La Coste for the title held six years by Tilden. La Coste won, taking the American net title to foreign shores for the first time in a couple of decades.

Jacques Brugnon, the third member of last year's team from the European country also acquitted himself nobly.

It is the general opinion in French circles now that the 1927 Davis cup team will be composed of La Coste, Brugnon, Cochet and Pierre Landry.

The latter star has not been heard of generally in the United States but his work in France the past calendar year has won him much fame. In fact the more enthusiastic net critics have paid him the pretty compliment of giving him the nickname of "Comet" after Maurice McLoughlin, grand old man of the net game in America and called "Comet" because of his brilliancy, forcefulness and dashing style of play.

Landry may not be a second to McLoughlin but he has shown enough to demand for himself attention in the international net field.

His latest appearance in match play was against no less an opponent than La Coste. After playing his way through the covered courts championships to the final he was defeated by Rene the dashing one but only after a hard battle.

Speaking of basketball.

I have watched two or three pro games this seasn and I am wondering whether or not much of the roughness in it would not be eliminated if the personal foul rule were to be enforced.

In the amateur and collegiate games four personal fouls disqualify a player for the remainder of the game. This rule is not enforced by the professionals. The theory advanced no doubt is that the paying public is deprived of seing a star in action if he be eliminated through the personal foul rule at any time during the game. But why not prevent such disqualification by impressing firmly enough in the minds of these stars that the "rough stuff" won't go—that they will lessen the drawing power of the team and their own value thereby by calling on such tactics as will force them out of the game?

Delaney-Maloney Are Matched For Bout At Gardens

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 19—The much talked of heavyweight boxing bout between Jack Delaney and Jimmy Maloney became a reality Tuesday when Pete Reilly Delaney's manager, signed his fighter for the match to be held in Madison Square Garden on February 18. Dan Carroll, Maloney's manager, gave his sanction to the date over the long distance telephone from Boston.

The fight, scheduled to go ten rounds, is one of the most important bouts in Tex Rickard's heavyweight elimination series.

Liberty Passers Are After Games

The Liberty Five team would like to book all teams in New Castle and Lawrence county playing a class B schedule.

The following teams are asked to get in touch with Manager Tony Tino at once: Gerson Imperials, Central Christians, Polish Falcons, Italian Stars, Musketeers, Handy Service Stores, St. Pauls, Athletics and the Croton Five. Also any other team desiring games.

For games call 4843-M or write to Tony Tino at 605 East Long avenue.

New Wilmington Will Meet Test

Plays At Grove City On Friday Evening—Schedule For Season

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 19.—With two victories in as many starts credited to their list, the New Wilmington High basketball team will be tested in complete fashion this week. Friday evening, Coach Wiggins will take his squad to Grove City to play the team coached by Joe Hartman and Saturday evening, the Westminster College Reserves will be met in the prelim to the Westminster-Bethany contest.

In their first game, the New Wilmington lads defeated Mt. Jackson by a three point margin and the next evening, West Middlesex, old rivals, were neatly trounced on their own floor.

Coach Wiggins has arranged an attractive schedule for his team. The card is featured by a trip to West Virginia starting February 3. One the first night Bethany High will be played at Bethany and two nights later Follansbee High will be played. A game is to be arranged for February 4.

The card as it now stands is:

At Home

Jan. 22—Westminster Reserves.
February 15—Grove City.
February 25—Parker's Landing.

Away

Jan. 21—Grove City.
Jan. 28.—Mt. Jackson.
Feb. 3—Bethany, W. Va.
Feb. 4.—Pending.
Feb. 5—Follansbee, W. Va.
Feb. 23—Mercer.
Mar. 4—Bessemer.

Liberty Quintet Takes Victory

The Liberty Five defeated the Houser-Kennedy team by a score of 27 to 13 in a game played last night on the Rose avenue gym floor.

The game was hardfought throughout the first half, which ended 17 to 5, with the Liberty Five in the front. The Houser-Kennedy team could not locate the hoops with any degree of effectiveness.

The entire Liberty Five team displayed a fine game. It would be hard to pick out the individual star. Ed. Roher led the scoring with four baskets, while Rogovin and Thomas tallied two apiece.

The Liberty passers have now won six straight games and look good to annex the championship of the city and county this year in junior circles.

Liberty Five		Hous.-Ken.
Reiber	F	Pittaway
Roher	F	Hannon
Parker	C	Kelso
Thomas	G	R. Gilbert
Rogovin	G	E. Gilbert

Field goals: Reiber 2, Roher 4, Parker, Rogovin, Lewis, Thomas 2, Pittaway, Hannon 2, Kelso, R. Gilbert, E. Gilbert.

Fouls: Liberty Five, 5 out of 11; Houser and Kennedy, 1 out of 7.

Referee: Douglas.

Ellwood-Butler Game Postponed

The Ellwood City-Butler High battle scheduled for Section IV last night on the Ellwood City floor was postponed by the officials of both schools and will be played on the night of January 25.

The Evans City High team gained a 13 to 9 verdict over Mars High last night in a game played at Mars.

Ellwood City High will appear here on Friday night, January 28, it was announced today. The game set for the New Castle floor takes on the aspect of a championship affair.

Philadelphia Man Managing Tunney

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19.—Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion of the world, is managed in part at least by a Philadelphian, Max Hoff, Philadelphia sportsman and manager of boxers, who has a 20 per cent interest in the champion, it was learned today. He has held that interest since the day before Tunney took the title from Jack Dempsey. News of the interest Hoff holds in Tunney leaked out when Congressman Benjamin Golder of this city, Hoff's legal counsel, announced he is taking steps to protect the interests of Hoff in the titleholder.

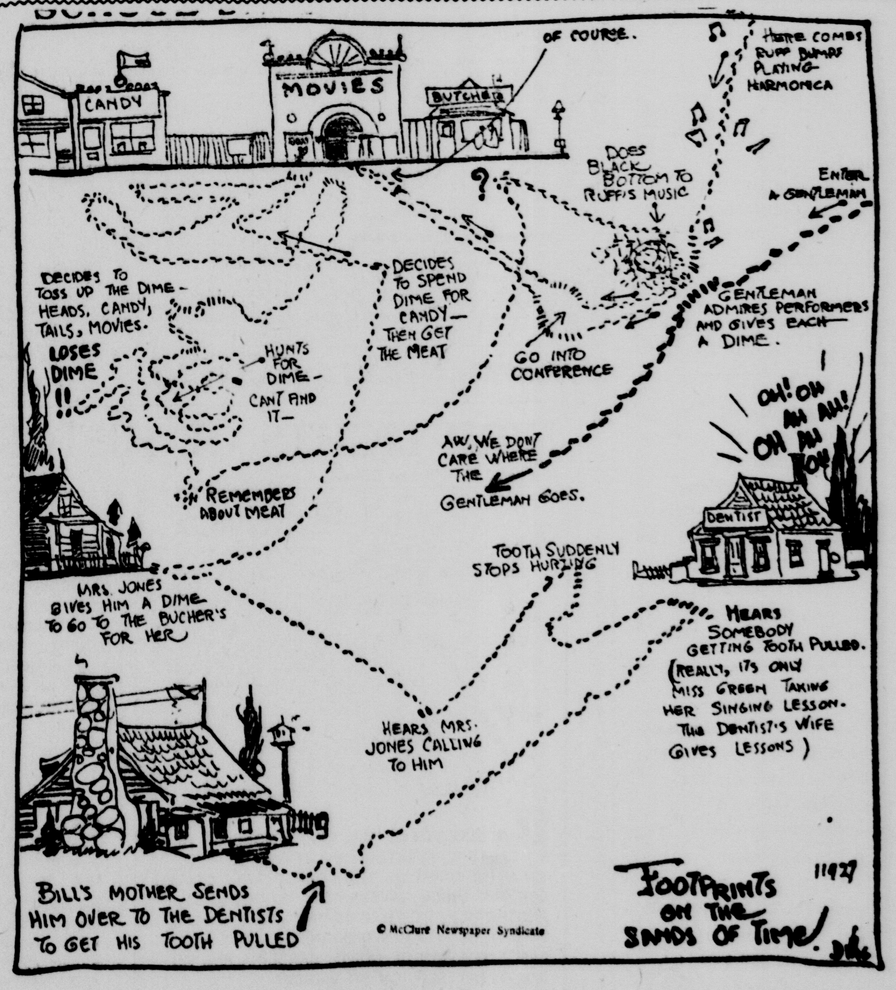

According to Golder and a contract he exhibited, Tunney and his manager, Billy Gibson, signed an agreement with Hoff September 22, whereby Hoff is to receive 20 per cent of Tunney's earnings so long as he is champion.

The contract was signed by Gibson, Hoff and Eugene Joseph Tunney.

The first national billiard tournament in the United States was held in Detroit in 1859. Prizes aggregating $15,000, in addition to the championship title, served to attract the foremost cue experts of that day. Michael Phelan of New York City was the winner.

Do Rent Receipts Keep You From Owning A Home Of Your Own

Why pay rent when you buy a home on easy terms from the houses advertised for sale in our Real Estate Column. There you will find houses of all sizes and descriptions, in every part of the city, and you will find dealers who will make the terms to suit your individual financial condition.

If you are working for a moderate salary, tell your problems to the Realtor and he will help you to convert the rent you are paying into a home of your own. A few years of paying rent will buy a house. It has been estimated that a person who rents 30 years pays for at least six houses. Pay for your own house and then buy another that some one will pay you for in rent.

The Realtor will tell you how.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

THE SUCCESS OF THE EXPEDITIONS OF 1861 TO CAPTURE STRATEGIC POSITIONS ON THE ATLANTIC COAST OF THE CONFEDERATE STATES LED THE UNION GOVERNMENT TO ORGANIZE ANOTHER ONE TO SEIZE ROANOKE ISLAND, WHICH WAS THE KEY TO TWO SOUNDS PROTECTING A LARGE PORTION OF NORTH CAROLINA AND AN IMPORTANT SECTION OF VIRGINIA.

GEN. AMBROSE E. BURNSIDE, U.S.A.

THE EXPEDITION GATHERED IN HAMPTON ROADS UNDER THE COMMAND OF GENERAL AMBROSE E. BURNSIDE, AND EARLY IN JANUARY, 1862, WAS READY TO SET OUT.

THE NAVAL DIVISION INCLUDED 20 LIGHT-DRAUGHT GUNBOATS UNDER THE COMMAND OF FLAG-OFFICER LOUIS M. GOLDSBOROUGH. THE LAND FORCES NUMBERED 16,000 MEN, DIVIDED INTO 3 BRIGADES UNDER GENERALS FOSTER, RENO AND PARKE, ABOARD 40 TRANSPORTS. SEVEN ADDITIONAL GUNBOATS ALSO FORMED A PART OF THE MILITARY DIVISION.

THE FLEET SAILED ON JANUARY 11TH FOR HATTERAS INLET, TO THE SOUTH OF ROANOKE ISLAND. LIKE THE PRECEDING EXPEDITION IT HAD THE ILL FORTUNE TO BE CAUGHT IN A WILD STORM OFF THE COAST OF NORTH CAROLINA IN WHICH FIVE OF THE SHIPS WERE WRECKED ON THE SHORE AND MANY LIVES LOST.

IT WAS NOT UNTIL JANUARY 28TH THAT ALL THE REMAINING VESSELS HAD REACHED HATTERAS INLET. SEVERAL DAYS WERE THEN SPENT IN PREPARATION FOR THE PROPOSED ATTACK, AND ON THE 5TH OF FEBRUARY THE FLEET ADVANCED THROUGH PAMLICO SOUND TOWARD ROANOKE ISLAND.

TOMORROW—THE BATTLE OF ROANOKE ISLAND.

Lawrence County, ss:

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to Wm. R. Evans.

Whereas, The City of New Castle, on the 31st day of December A. D. 1921 filed its claim in our Court of Common Pleas of Lawrence County at No. 55 March Term, 1922 M. L. D., for the sum of $39.23 with interest from the 8th day of August, 1921, for the construction of a cement or concrete footway or sidewalk, in front of property, at, along, in front of and abutting the property herein described against the following property situate in the Seventh Ward, of said City of New Castle, bounded on the north by Phillips; east by alley; south by Phillips; west by Cedar Street, fronting 40 feet, more or less, on said Cedar Street and extending back therefrom 110 feet, more or less owned or reputed to be owned by you;

And Whereas, We have been given to understand that said claim is still due and unpaid, and remains a lien against the said property;

Now, you are hereby notified to file your affidavit of defense to said claim, if defense you have thereto, in the office of the Prothonotary of our said Court, within fifteen days after the service of this writ upon you. If no affidavit of defense be filed within said time, judgment may be entered against you for the whole claim and the property described in the claim be sold to recover the amount thereof.

Witness the Honorable R. Lawrence Hildebrand, President Judge of our said Court this 28th day of December, A. D. 1926.

R. M. CAMPBELL,
Prothonotary.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—A moderate rally in the industrial stocks was set in motion in the early trading today by aggressive short covering in the speculative leaders which were under heavy selling pressure at Tuesday's close.

Professionals continued to hammer some of the motor and specialty stocks, but in almost every instance a resiliant condition was exposed, and prompt short covering resulted in sharp rallies in the stocks under pressure. Hudson Motor, after opening at 49⅞, was pushed back to 48⅝ and rallied to 50⅛ in the first half-hour of trading. U. S. Steel recovered a point in the same period, and Baldwin 2⅛.

Call money unchanged at 4½ per cent.

It involves social work with groups of people rather than individual case work. She wants to learn this phase of social work to take back to her people in China.

An "Iron Cow"

Pantryman Digweed of the world's largest motorship, the "Asturias," just arrived at New York, works "Fanny — the Iron Cow." "Fanny" is seven feet tall and is a combination of cylinders, pans and other containers. Milk powder with unsalted butter and the right proportions of water are put into the "iron cow," which then may be tapped for table milk, light cream for coffee and heavy cream for whipping. Passengers say they can't tell the difference from the "real stuff."

Forceful Message By Rev. Scripture

Explains That Lack Of Home Training Result In Low Morals In Young People

"Is Punishment Outlawed?" was the subject of quite a startling sermon last evening at the Hoover Heights Tabernacle, Morris street, by the Rev. M. J. Scripture, the pastor who is conducting evangelistic services each night, except Saturday.

The speaker showed how all were the property of God, first by creation and then by purchase through the death of Christ. Belonging to God he has a right to do with us what He pleases. If we persist in disobeying Him he can punish. He declared that there was a difference between punishment and cruelty. God's punishments are never cruel. But the trend of modern thinking and acting is to offset the fact that there is punishment for sin. Among the things that are tending to do this is the denial of the inerrancy of the Bible, infidelity in many of the churches and the clergy, the preacring ofg a god of slushy love and other loose and hellish teachings under the name of religion, which have dared to set aside God's Word, especially in regard to hell, and the allowing of many worldly practices in the church. The lack of home training and the abandoning of the family altar, parents laxity in punishing when promising, the slowness and looseness of our court decisions, the damnable movies, immoral literature, the so-called spiritualistic interviews with the dead, the ousting of religion and the introduction of worldly practices, as dancing, in our public schools, and even the great extent of insurance risks which relieves the offender of all responsibility, all tend to emphasize that one can sin and receive no or at most very little punishment.

These things result in low morals, in lust displacing love, disrespect of parents, law and authority and a great increase in crime, especially among the young. Some have proposed hospitals for the cure of these things but there is only one cure, a return to God and the changing of the heart by the salvation of Christ Jesus. God's Word still stands and still affirms that the soul that sinneth shall die. Heed His warning and turn from sin and live.

Prayer meeting tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. Anderson and Mrs. J. Shoaff.

Mercer County Legislator Is "Baby" House Member

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 19.—One distinction which is usually a matter of interest to the members of the general assembly is who the "baby" of the house is. This year, the honor goes to Mercer county, Carl E Marsteller of Wheatland, being the youngest member present.

Mr. Marsteller is only 27 years of age, and looks several years younger than the age to which he admits. Young as he is however, he is more or less a veteran in politics. At the age of 21 he was elected as burgess of Wheatland, Pa., and after leaving that office was elected as chairman of the borough council. In 1926, while still a member of the borough council he cast his hat into the Mercer county political ring for general assembly and his luck stayed with him. Along with his political proclivities he has found time to get married, is the father of a boy, and is employed in the Carnegie Steel office in Farrell, Pa.

CARL E. MARSTELLER

Young as he is, Mr. Marsteller has some very well defined ideas concerning legislation and will probably be a valuable member.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

Two recipes which are worth clipping and filing are included in today's menu—the date sticks and the gingerapple pudding. That is, of course if you have not tried them before and like them after trial. Date sticks are a cross between a confection and a cooky and would be much more healthy for the children than ordinary candy. Figs or raisins might be substituted for the dates for a change.

Cream of Cheese Soup
Baked Ham Cabbage Salad
Glazed Sweet Potatoes
Sour Milk, Corn Muffins
Ginger Apple Pudding

TODAY'S RECIPES

Date Sticks—Five tablespoons flour, three-quarters cup sugar, three eggs, one teaspoon baking powder, one teaspoon vanilla, one cup nuts, one cup dates. Separate the eggs. Beat the whites and add sugar. Then beat in yolks and fold in sifted flour and baking powder. Next vanilla and lastly nuts and dates. Bake from 30 to 40 minutes.

Glazed Sweet Potatoes—One cup sugar, one pinch cinnamon, two cloves, one pint cold water. Cook syrup about two and one-half minutes. Boil potatoes, let stand till cold. Skin, cut and place in buttered roasting pan. Pour syrup over them and make 30 to 45 minutes.

Sour Milk Corn Muffins—Two cups corn meal, one teaspoon salt, one and one-eighth cups buttermilk, one teaspoon soda (level), one tablespoon sugar. Beat the egg and add the milk (in which soda has been dissolved). Combine with dry materials and beat batter. Bake in a hot oven. Note absence of shortening. This recipe is also good for corn bread.

Gingerapple Pudding—One-third cup sugar, one and one-half cups flour, one teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon ginger, one-half teaspoon nutmeg, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon cloves, one-half teaspoon salt. Core and pare three apples. Cut into eighths and cook in a syrup made of one-fourth cup sugar and one-fourth cup water until about half done. Drain and save this syrup. Spread your apples over the bottom of a greased cake tin and pour the gingerbread dough over them. Beat an egg. Add one-half cup molasses and one-half cup hot water. Stir this into the above dry ingredients. Lastly add one-fourth cup melted shortening. Bake in a moderate oven about 40 minutes. Use the syrup, drained from the apples, as a base for a hard or creamy sauce.

Find Hunter Is Killed By Own Gun In Woods

(International News Service)

LOCKHAVEN, Pa., Jan. 19.—The body of George Bressler of Flemington, Pa., was found by searching parties here today, a bullet wound through the head indicating he had been accidentally shot with his own gun while hunting.

Friends searched the woods for him all night, after his hunting dog returned alone.

Manager Will Not Allow Youthful Swimmer To Leave

Claims Toronto Interests Back Of Move To Have Young Return Home

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19.—Toronto "interests" seeking to exploit George Young, 17-year-old conqueror of Catalina channel, were responsible for the report that Young's mother, Mrs. Jean Young, had suffered a breakdown and had been ordered to bed by a physician, according to the charge made here today by Frank ("Doc") O'Byrne, manager and trainer of the youthful swimming marvel.

"It was a scheme," O'Byrne said, "to have Young return to Toronto to sign a contract for personal appearances throughout Canada.

"Until I learn definitely there is something wrong with Mrs. Young, I will not let George leave Los Angeles," O'Byrne declared.

O'Byrne also declared he would not touch a cent of the youthful Toronto lad's $25,000, won when he conquered Catalina channel. In spite of reports that a contract existed between them calling for 40 per cent of Young's earnings to be given his manager and trainer.

Philadelphia Man Burns To Death, Four Are Saved

Fire Starting In Doughnut Vat In Baker's Home Causes Severe Damage

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19.—Charles Wernert, 54, a baker, was burned to death early today in his flame-swept home and bakery in North Philadelphia. Four other members of the family were rescued by youths who formed a pryamid upon each other's shoulders to reach the second floor of the building.

The fire started while Wernert was preparing to cook doughnuts in a vat in the basement. It is believed the vat of lard boiled over and became ignited while Wernert was on the second floor.

Wernert started for the basement after the blaze had gained headway and as he rushed down the stairway it collapsed, pinning him beneath it.

Fisher Satisfied With State Mansion

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 19.—Because there are so many people willing to live in the executive mansion just as it is, the new Governor does not believe a new building is a matter of immediate necessity.

The Governor laughed when asked what he thought about a new executive mansion as recommended by Gov. Pinchot. "A great many citizens seem to have a willingness to live in it just as it is" he said, "there is no need to worry about that just at present," he added that some repairs to the present building may be found necessary.

The Kid

Message Based On Imprisonment Of Two Preachers

Rev. Morris Tells Of Experience Of Paul And Silas In The Jail At Philippi

"Two Preachers in Jail" was the subject of the sermon preached last night in the First Baptist church by Evangelist Mel Norris. The subject was based upon the experiences of Paul and Silas in the jail at Philippi.

Following a most interesting description of the incarceration of the two preachers—Mr. Morris had charmed his audiences with his superb descriptions—he dwelt upon the jailer's question: "What must I do to be saved?"

He said in part: "There were many questions which might have well claimed the attention of the jailer that night, but all other questions were cast aside while he was considering the greatest question which ever confronts the soul of men. It was a courteous question, as is evidenced by his polite address: 'Sirs'. It was an important question, for it issued in his eternal welfare. It was a personal question, in that it concerned his own salvation. He was not now thinking of anyone else but himself. We should not be concerned with others until the matter of our own salvation is settled. Then, while standing upon the Rock of Ages, we are able to reach a helping hand to others. It was an urgent question. It demanded an immediate answer. The jailer was not content to wait for a more convenient time or for a more conventional opportunity. So the wise sinner will come immediately to the Lord Jesus Christ, for 'now is the accepted time, and today is the day of salvation'."

The speaker then dwelt upon the answer which Paul gave to the inquiring jailer. Following are some of the evangelist's statements on this point: "The Modernist would have said to the jailer: 'Rise up, refuse to be morally round-shouldered, be a good citizen, pay your debts, do the best you can; and you will be saved'. But none of these would have been able to lift the jailer from the quicksand of his sin. Instead Paul pointed the trembling penitent to the Lord Jesus Christ, saying: 'Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house'. When the jailer got his eyes off his own doing and centered on what Christ had done for him upon the cross, he was saved. It was a case of salvation by faith. Faith is a very simple thing and is common in daily life. Faith in a physician means that you are willing to take his medicine; faith in a banker means that you are willing to invest your money in his institution; so faith in Christ means that you trust yourself into his saving arms. As soon as the jailer, who came humbly, contritely, repentantly, earnestly to the apostles, believed on Jesus, he was saved. He did what every sinner must do, and he did all that any sinner can do to be saved. The genuineness of his conversion was witnessed by the change which came over him. He, who had a few hours before beaten the two preachers, now washed their stripes and set food before them. Salvation means a change in the life and the making of restitution for the wrongs which we have done, so far as that may be possible. He then openly confessed his new-found Savior by being baptised that same hour. It is also a notable fact that the jailer's household believed and were likewise saved that same night."

During the song service a beautiful solo was sung by Miss Ruth Kennedy. Prayer was offered by Rev. George Zinz. This evening Mr. Morris will preach on "A Mad Man in a Muddy River". The band from the Hungarian Baptist church will play several sacred numbers.

Thursday afternoon at two o'clock cottage prayer meetings will be held in the following homes: L. F. Copper, 1040 Maryland avenue; Mrs. L. D. Garrett, 709 Cleveland avenue; J. Q. L. Roberts, 115 Park avenue, and R. C. Fralick, 318 Norwood avenue.

Card of Thanks

We desire to thank the friends, neighbors and employes of the Shenango Pottery for their kindness and sympathy extended during our recent bereavement, also for the beautiful floral tributes and for cars donated.

Inaugural Ball Draws Big Crowd

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 19.—The inaugural ball, always a pleasing spectacle, was attended by as many dancers as could be crowded into the ballroom of the Penn-Harris Hotel.

Gov. John S. Fisher, his daughter, Mary, and her fiance, Henry Tatnall Brown, Jr., arrived at 8 o'clock. Miss Fisher wore a green taffeta gown trimmed in green and gold, with gold hose and gold slippers.

Mrs. Arthur James, wife of the Lieutenant Governor, wore a gown of black and crystal. She carried an orchid fan boquet.

Midget Minister At St. Paul's Church

Rev. J. H. Thompson of Kenova, W. Va., will assist in special services in St. Paul's Baptist church beginning Sunday January 23 and continuing for one week.

The special speaker is very small in stature being only three feet, five inches tall. He spoke in this city on a former occasion and great crowds were attracted by his wonderful preaching.

Hamilton First To Be Appointed

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 19.—Oldest attaches of the senate said today that they do not recall a demonstration in former years similar to that which followed the precedent set by Governor Fisher in making his first official communication to the senate to his announcement of the appointment of his private secretary.

A few minutes after the senate received the communication from the governor, A. Boyd Hamilton, the secretary, appeared at the senate door with the cabinet oppointments. He was escorted to the bar of the senate while members applauded generously.

Hamilton is dean of newspapermen on capitol hill. He "covered" the senate for 10 years.

Reports Accident On Jefferson St.

U. L. Lackey of 715 North Mercer street reported to the police Tuesday that while he was driving south on North Jefferson street at Grant street, a car bearing Pennsylvania license 518-093, which was in the rear of his machine, drove around his machine and in so doing hit and damaged his car. The driver of the other car did not stop to determine the amount of damage done.

Money Back Says McKee's Kut Rate Store, and Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., if One Bottle of "Allenrhu" Doesn't Make Any Rheumatic Sufferer Rejoice.

It does not matter whether you are disabled with cursed Rheumatism or have only occasional twinges "Allenrhu" will ease the agony, do away with the gnawing pains and often reduce the swollen joints.

Allenrhu is no laggard. It starts right in at once searching out the poisonous deposits and in two days starts to drive the concentrated impurities that often cause Rheumatism, out of the body thru the natural channels.

Allenrhu has been tried and tested for years and really marvelous results have been accomplished often in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the sufferer was almost helpless.

"The blessed relief this marvelous preparation quickly gives has made for it thousands of friends," says McKee's Kut Rate Store, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc.
